SMITH LEAVES TO BLAST PROSPERITY IN DE LUXE TRAIN

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Sept. 17. — Smith says that this prosperity thing is a myth, and left for the west last night in eleven car de luxe private train to prove it.

Hoover comes today to the Wettest part of New Jersey, which trip is not only a noble but brave experiment, his audience will run about a cork screw to the listener.

They again postponed the international polo matches to give the United States selection committee a chance to recuperate from their hard summer of selecting.

Paul Block's fifteen-year-old boy gave $1,500, his lifetime savings, to the campaign fund.

Education should be made compulsory in this country.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Many motorists have tried out the newly opened improved road extending from East Brook towards Volant. This is a nice piece of concrete work and provides an excellent roadway. The new road follows a new route for the greater part of the way, curves in the old highway being eliminated, as well as about a half mile of the distance by following a new route across the fields from East Brook . It is expected that the road will be improved the remainder of the way to Volant during the coming year.

While Sunday marked the traditional close of the straw hat season many straw hats were in evidence yesterday. The mid-summer weather conditions served to postpone for many the laying away of the straw headgear.

Tuesday is the second registration day for New Castle voters. If you did not register on the first day be sure to attend to the duty tomorrow

Paving of the thoroughfares north and south of the new Jamieson Memorial hospital has been completed.

Pa Newc observes: Young man swinging a cane as he walked jauntily down the thoroughfare. He attracted many glances—Bridal best man and lady walking down Washington street in full regalia which also attracted much comment and several smiles—young lady wearing knickers and leading a poodle—a Welsh fox terrier pup, looks a lot like a combination airedale.

If you want to se a real gang rush, go down to the Y. M. C. A. and watch the boys' division going at it on Saturday mornings. A rush and a din collaborating with a hurry and scurry as they fly madly about doing everything and nothing. The billiard balls clash and the ping pong paddles smack and all aids the general din of the whole affair.

It will be but a short time until the fair starts. We mean the New Castle fair . Pa Newc observes that they are cleaning up around the grounds and making a lot of repairs. Officials report that the cattle display for this year is large.

There has been a decided paucity in the rainfall for the past some time. The bemoaned wet season of the fore part of the summer seems to be entirely forgotten. Pa Newc notices the Mahoning river down at the seventh ward does not cover the bed.

With the apparent "picking up" of working conditions, there seems to be fewer robberies in the vicinity than formerly. The robberies are not as plentiful in the city, while the Mt. Jackson district, which was infested with nocturnal plunderings for weeks, does not report a single case of marauding within the last two weeks.

As Pa Newc had occasion to be at the farewell dinner at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday evening which was given in the honor of John Leonard and the new secretary, William Thomas. It

Gigantic Relief Program Started To Cope With Storm Disaster That Cripples Island

COOLIDGE ASSISTS IN RELIEF PLANS

Tons Of Foodstuffs And Clothing Needed By Refugees; Governor Reports Distress

By COLE E. MORGAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. —Government agencies and the American Red Cross were in a feverish state of activity today organizing and putting into operation a stupendous relief program to care for the needs of the thousands of sufferers from the tropical hurricane that has laid waste to islands in the West Indies and now is tearing its way across the Florida peninsula.

The destroyer Gilmer, placed at the disposal of the Red Cross by the navy department by direction of President Coolidge is expected to arrive at San Juan, Porto Rico, early tomorrow.

Aboard the Gilmer are Henry M. Baker, national director of emergency relief and a staff of experienced relief workers from Red Cross headquarters here who will organize the activities in Porto Rico and the adjacent storm-swept islands.

To Ship Food.

Late tonight or early tomorrow morning a naval vessel will steam out of New York with 375 tons of foodstuffs aboard bound for Porto Rico under orders of Admiral Hughes, chief of naval operations and acting secretary of the navy. George S. Smith of the national Red Cross staff left here today for New York to supervise the assembling and loading of the supplies.

A. L. Shafer of the national Red Cross headquarters staff with six trained assistants is in charge of relief activities in Florida. This force will be augmented by Miss Ruth E. Mettinger, Red Cross nursing field representative in Florida, and Red Cross chapter workers in Jacksonville.

Red Cross at Work.

The national Red Cross, which on Saturday set aside $50,000 from its emergency relief fund for the hurricane relief activities, today was receiving pledges of additional funds from Red Cross chapters throughout the country. These were in response to the appeal broadcast Saturday to the 5,000 chapters scattered across the United States. Many chapters yesterday and today sent initial contributions by telegraph with the announcement that other funds would be raised. The appeal has been broadcast by radio, through the press and from the pulpit to reach every city and hamlet in the land.

Tells of Situation.

Porto Rico at this time present the big task for the relief agencies. The gravity of the situation there was brought to Washington in a cablegram from Governor Towner to the war department which read:

"Further information from island increases extent of disaster. Practically half towns completely destroyed. Small houses in country blown

BERT STEVENSON SAFE; CROPS ARE TOTAL LOSS

Cablegram Is Sent From Porto Rico By Former Local Man

Loss Will Be Tremendous; Stevenson Head Of Large Plantation

First word that has reached New Castle from Bert Stevenson, former local man, who with his family has resided in Porto Rico for some years, was received in a cablegram to Fred L. Rentz, president of The News Company, last night.

The message said:

"Terrible hurricane. We are safe. Crops total loss. Bert."

Mr. Stevenson was head and large shareholder in a large plantation project in Porto Rico. The plantation was of such extent that it was a mile from his front door to the front gate.

Prospects were for exceptional crops this year, so that the destruction by the hurricane means a tremendous loss.

(International News Service)

SAN JUAN, Sept. 17.—With death, destruction and ruin everywhere, Porto Rico figuratively forgot its scars today in a determined effort to keep the gaunt spectres, pestilence and starvation, from adding their horror to the chaotic conditions created by the terror-inspiring hurricane which swept the country.

Reliable estimates place the number who died in the hurricane at about 200. Between 300,000 and 500,000 persons are homeless. Property valued at about $50,000,000 was destroyed. Many towns are still isolated, roads are impassable and food and water are scarce.

Aged Man Rides In Airplane On 80th Birthday

Harry T. Pearsall Plans To Go Up Again In the Near Future

Besides being Constitution Day, September 17 is the birthday of Harry T. Pearsoll of the East Brook road. And it is his 80th birthday.

Harry T. Pearsall wanted to celebrate. He thought and he thought. Finally he decided to celebrate the great event in the newest way possible. So with some of his relatives he went to the field of the Kegarise Air Transport company, where Pilot Herbert Sherman took him for a 15 minute ride over New Castle. The relatives, too, thought they would like to have an airplane ride, but when it came right down to it, they demurred.

Not in the least afraid was Mr. Pearsall. In fact he rather likes it. It was the smoothest ride he ever had, he said, and he plans to go up again in the near future.

PALM BEACHES SEEM TO BE STORM CENTRE; DETAILS ARE MEAGRE

Damage Done In Stricken Area in Florida is Unknown—Storm Sweeping Northwest Towards Gulf of Mexico. Report Hurricane Hits Velocity of 100 to 125 Miles Per Hour — Communication Lines Are Down.

(International News Service)

With an unknown toll of damage and destruction in its wake, the West Indian hurricane which blew up from the Carribean, swept with unabated fury today over the Florida Peninsula and headed northwest toward the Gulf of Mexico.

Cities and towns in its path were cut off from communication and meagre details filtering through did not estimate the loss of life, if any, or the extent of the devastation.

The hurricane's greatest force as it passed over the east coast apparently struck the region lying between Fort Pierce, the Palm Beaches and Jupiter to the north. Fears were entertained of possible loss of life in this section. Several persons were reported injured.

No Serious Damage At Miami

Miami experienced a heavy wind, but no serious damage. Towns and hamlets dotting the lower central portion of the state apparently were hard hit and reports indicated the hurricane roared through the section at a velocity carrying from 50 to 60 to 100 to 125 miles an hour.

All possible efforts were being made to pierce the silence engulfing the stricken area to determine the storm's toll.

Communication was paralyzed, trains were halted, and houses, bridges, roofs, trees and wires were blown down, a heavy rain was reported generally throughout the area.

The weather bureau declared the storm probably would not abate for another 24 hours, and would not finally blow itself out before 36 hours.

The storm center was over the Florida Peninsula east of Tampa.

An unconfirmed report to Jacksonville declared a hospital in West Palm Beach had been demolished, with possible loss of life.

A radio message received from Taveres, Fla., by an amateur radio operator in New Orleans declared the storm passed through Tampa at 90 miles an hour. Heavy damage but no loss of life was reported.

"The disaster is the worst that ever occurred from a hurrican in the West Indies," was the way Gov. Horace Towner described the devastation in Porto Rico.

He reported one half of the houses in the island were destroyed, which would mean 700,000 homeless. He appealed for immediate aid.

A navy supply boat is being loaded in New York with provisions for Porto Rico and an army transport and a freight transport have been ordered to San Juan with badly needed food supplies.

The hurricane reached a velocity of 70 miles an hour at Sanford, according to reports reaching Palalka, Fla. All telephone lines south were out and no definite news could be obtained as to the extent of the damage wrought by the hurricane.

The West Indian hurricane swept through Tampa today, with a 90-mile an hour wind, according to radio messages received by C. A. Freitag, ama-

"I Shot In Self-Defense," Says Divorcee Attacked While Hitch-Hiking From South

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Pa., Sept. 17.—Confident of acquittal, Loveda Boyle, 18-year-old divorcee, is hoping for a speedy trial that will see her absolved of the murder of Robert McCormick, 31 of Akron, Ohio.

The young woman, who is in Venango county jail today awaiting extradition to Ohio on a second degree murder charge, declares she shot McCormick to prevent him and another man, S. A. Ritchie, from attacking her after they had given her a "lift." Miss Boyle had been hitch-hiking to her home in Cranberry, near here, from Okmulgee, Okla., where she had secured a divorce September 4.

Claims Self Defense

"I shot in self defense," Miss Boyle declared. "They were attacking me. One had me by the shoulders, the other about the body, so I pulled a small revolver out of my belt and fired."

The girl declared she believed she had hit McCormick in the leg. He

Red Cross Appeals To New Castle To Aid Stricken Porto Ricans

An urgent appeal asking New Castle citizens to contribute money and goods to aid in the Porto Rican situation caused by the disastrous hurricane that swept over the island, leaving death and destruction in its wake, came in a telegram to the local chapter of the American Red Cross from national headquarters this morning.

TALES OF RETURNING AUTO TOURISTS

In Statute of Liberty

Interviewing the custodian whose job is to remain high up in the Statue of Liberty, and keep watch of the visitors, has been an interesting experience of numerous New Castle and Lawrence county auto tourists this summer, on the occasion of their visit to the statue in New York harbor.

Most persons are familiar with the method of reaching the top of the statue. An elevator is used to go up to the base of the statue and then the climb is up a winding stairway.

The custodian said that the story that visitors were once allowed to go up into the arm and torch in the statue is erroneous. Never have visitors gone any higher than the forehead, where they are now allowed to view New York harbor, he said.

"It's interesting to see what some people will do to get out here," he said. "In some of the worst weather on the bay, visitors will come out here. I suppose that it's their only visit to New York and they will take any chance to get out to the statue on the occasion."

There is a book in the statue where visitors can write their names, and hundreds do write them in the book daily. Whether the books are preserved or not, is another question.

Six Additional Bodies Found In Rockford Ruins

Death Toll In Rockford Storm That Wrecks Factory Increased To Fourteen

Estimate That Damage To Illinois Town Will Mount To Million And Half

(International News Service)

ROCKFORD, Ill., Sept. 17.—The death toll of the tornado that swept Rockford's industrial section Friday mounted to fourteen today with the finding of six more bodies in the ruins of factory "B" of the Rockford Chair and Furniture company.

The victims were Gunnard Ryden, August J. Peterson, Olaf Larson, Martin Anderson, Herman Weidell and one unidentified man.

Find Bodies

Rescue workers found the bodies in the wreckage of the northwest stairway, where most of the employes sought to escape when they saw the twister coming. Workers with steam shovels and tractors worked frantically to recover another body believed to be still buried beneath the mass of twisted debris.

Thousands of sightseers from surrounding cities watched the rescue workers as they extricated the six bodies. Such a swarm of visitors crowded into the ruined city that it was necessary to detail militiamen, State police, American legionnaires and even high school cadets to keep the crowds in motion.

Rockford has started the work of reconstruction. Walter E. Burwell, president of the Rockford chamber of commerce called a special meeting of his organization today to formulate plans for a finance program to assist firms and families to reconstruct the property damage. The damage done by the tornado is estimated at $1,500,000.

(International News Service)

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 17.—Plans for a huge airport here were announced today by a group of Camden bankers. The site purchased for the airport is a 175-acre field on the outskirts of Camden. The latest type of field and buildings will be constructed under the guidance of aeronautical engineers. Four runways, of 2,500 foot length each, will lead from the center of the field. The field, when constructed, may be used instead of the present field in Philadelphia as a station on the New York-Atlanta, air mail line.

strength. By a coincidence it comes at a time when Smith has left to invade the Middle-West, where Hoover has been granted a similar concession.

Speaks Tonight

In his address tonight Hoover will make his great bid for the support of organized labor. He will elaborate upon the policies laid down in his acceptance speech and in the Republican platform and his efforts will be directed toward holding the workers of the East in the Republican ranks.

Hoover's program this afternoon included a tour of Newark and Montclair by auto. Later in the afternoon he will visit Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Edison at their home in Menlo Park.

At five p. m. the nominee will attend a reception in Newark, where he will meet the Republican leaders, whose duty it will be to keep the state in the Republican column in November. After that he will dine privately and rest for the speech in the First Regiment Armory at eight o'clock eastern standard time.

To Visit Edison

After his address Hoover will motor to the Edison home to spend the night with the electrical wizard. Over the week-end Edison issued a statement declaring his allegiance to Hoover. The inventor revealed that some newspapers had stated he was for Smith and he said he wished to correct this error.

Hoover faces an active program for tomorrow. He first will visit the Newark municipal airport early in the forenoon. Then he will lead another motor caravan on a tour of northern New Jersey cities. His itinerary will carry him through Jersey City, Hoboken and Weehawken and intervening places. At one o'clock he will lunch in Newark at a party given by Senator Walter E. Edge to the Republican county chairmen of New Jersey.

A third motor tour will follow, on which Hoover will visit Princeton, Elizabeth and Trenton. He will reboard his train at Trenton at five o'clock for the return trip to Washington.

coffee and fruit trees have been ruined. Sugar and canning factories have been leveled to the ground.

Before the hurricane a bumper crop brought with it the hope of exceptional prosperity this year. Now Porto Rico faces economic ruin.

Searching through the debris and ruins of the town of Cavey, a rescue party recovered 62 bodies. Fifteen bodies were recovered from the ruins of Ainonito, 33 persons were killed at Humacao. Five were killed when a roof of a building gave way in Coamo. The telephone building there was demolished, an operator inside it being trapped and killed.

An epidemic of measles added to the misery of the survivors. Seventy cases have been reported since the storm. Health officials are taking stringent measures to curb the epidemic.

Badly damaged, but with her crew and cargo safe, the steamship Catherine was in port here after a 48-hour battle with mountainous seas and terrific gales.

Situation Acute

As the situation became more acute food prices soared to unheard-of prices. Rebuilding lumber was in great demand, with prices boosted to $75 a hundred feet.

Damaged by the storm, the military road to Mayaguez and Ponce in the interior was swept away. The hospital and school at Humacao are in ruins and the extensive cotton crop near there has been destroyed.

All country homes between Rio Piedras and Cayey were either partially or totally destroyed. The home of M. A. Walker, president of the United Porto Rico Sugar Company at Momonica was ruined. Acting Manager Roukker, who was in the house at the time of the storm, together with several others, narrowly escaped injury when the roof of the house caved in.

Thousands of half-starved refugees from the interior of the island came into San Juan every hour.

quickly recuperate, but toward the latter part of last week his condition became worse and he was confined to his bed. Still, it was believed that he would recover, until the end came suddenly Sunday morning.

Robert Kennedy Aiken was born in Portersville, Butler county, April 6, 1861. He was the oldest child of Alexander H. and Jane Kennedy Aiken, Scotch-Irish pioneers of that section. When he was 13 years of age his parents moved to Mt. Jackson, where his father was engaged in the mercantile business.

At the age of 17, Mr. Aiken was bereft of his father by sudden death. He, with his uncle, conducted the mercantile business left by his father, for eight years. Tiring of the mercantile business, Mr. Aiken entered Westminster college, from which institution he graduated in 1890 under the presidency of Dr. R. G. Ferguson.

Becomes Lawyer

Having a desire to become a lawyer, Mr. Aiken entered the office of the late Attorney D. S. Morris, under whom he studied until his admission to the bar in 1891. The late Judge McMichael was then on the bench. Mr. Aiken practiced under him, also under Judges J. Norman Martin, who was appointed as Judge McMichael's successor, Judge Aaron L. Hazen, Judge W. D. Wallace, Judge W. E. Porter, Judge S. P. Emery, and Judges R. Lawrence Hildebrand and James A. Chambers.

In 1898 he was elected a member of select council. He was president of that body from the time he assumed office until 1902.

Mr. Aiken early took an interest in politics, being active in the Republican party. He was one of the first here to affiliate with the Progressive party, during its existence.

Candidate For Congress

During the eruption between the Progressives and the old line Republicans he became the Progressive candidate for congress against Ernest F. Acheson of Washington, Pa., the incumbent congressman of this district, which then embraced Washington county. He received a good vote.

In 1914 Mr. Aiken was united in marriage to Miss Marie F. Dravo, of Sewickley, Pa., who, with two children survives. The children are Frances Dravo Aiken, and Robert Kennedy Aiken, Jr.

Four sisters, Mary H.; Jane M.; Cassandra and Anne Aiken of this city and one brother, Alexander A. Aiken of Detroit, also survive.

Mr. Aiken was a member of the First Presbyterian church in which he was a trustee. He was a member of the Lawrence County Bar association, and the State Bar association. In the latter organization he had served several terms as vice president. He was several times a delegate to the American Bar association and addressed meetings of that organization.

He was a member of the board of directors of the Lawrence Savings and Trust company, and of the executive board of that institution.

He was for many years a trustee of Westminster college, where he served on the finance committee. In the spring of 1928 he received the degree of LL. D. He was also a member of the Kappa Phi Lambda fraternity.

Mr. Aiken was also on the board of directors of the Home Trust company, the Johnson Bronze company, Community Savings and Loan company and the Oak Park Cemetery association.

After the shooting she secured other "lifts" until she reached her parents' home. She did not know McCormick was seriously wounded until Oil City police arrested her and told her he had died.

"After I had repeatedly warned them to let me go," Miss Boyle said, "I stuck the gun against McCormick's side, and told him to stop. He said I was bluffing, so I warned him again and then I fired.

"Ritchie opened the door then and I got out. I went to a farm house and tried to get the sheriff's office, but couldn't. After that I got a ride to Youngstown and several more which brought me to Oil City."

Miss Boyle was married to John Van Ausdall, former Oil City man, April 18, 1927, in New York.

Philosophy is what persuades a husband that, after all, it is is the chivalrous thing to give in to her.

Motor Club Will Wage War Against Curb Stone Shieks

Many Complaints From Women Cause Action By Motor Club

"Curb stone shieks are going to be stopped by the Motor club."

This was the statement of Bernard Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club this morning, following his receipt of several more complaints from women of the city who are being annoyed by the curb pests.

Many calls have come into the motor club recently, states Mr. Hanlon, concerning these young men who drive up to the curb in their cars and pester as well as annoy women who are walking on the sidewalks. The number of complaints have been so great in number that the motor club is going to do everything possible to have this sort of thing stopped as well as prosecution of those responsible, stated Mr. Hanlon.

Some time ago this thing was prevalent, but it has been partially done away with. However, the annoyance has started recently and the motor club is going to see that it is stopped.

Information can not be made against the shieks because the women do not know who the person is. Numbers will be taken and the pests will be escertained and action taken later.

Small Boys Steal Rings From House

Admit Making Thefts Because They Wanted Money For Cigarettes

Three small boys, aged seven, eight and nine, today are with the New Castle police engaged in searching for a pocketbook, rings and other things which they stole from the residence of Mrs. C. B. Bates of 407 Blunston street, Sunday evening.

The job, state the police officials, had all the earmarks of being the work of professional burglars, and they were surprised at the efficient way it was done. Already a diamond ring, a cameo ring and a string of beads have been recovered. The boys still are searching for a pocketbook, which they dropped when chased by the officers.

At 10 o'clock Sunday evening Mrs. Bates called the police station and said that there were robbers in her house. Before Officers Criswell and Hanna could answer the call she went into her own house, grabbed the oldest youth by the arm, while the other two made their escape through a window which was open.

No lights were lighted when the boys did their work. They ransacked thoroughly the house, aided with matches and a candle. Later in the evening the boys were caught in the old Wolfe swamp and taken to the police station.

When questioned they also admitted stealing fruit from the home of Harry Fisher of 407 Pearson street.

They further stated that they committed the robberies so that they could get money with which to buy cigarettes.

It is thought that the boys will be turned over to the juvenile officer, but no formal disposition of the case has yet been made.

AUTO PROSPERITY

THAT the demand for automobiles is not subsiding even temporarily is evidenced by the reports of vast earnings by the manufacturers and by the sensational rise of motor shares on the New York stock exchange.

When the stock market experienced its sharp slump last winter it was predicted that the motor industry was facing a business depression brought about by the reaching of the saturation point in automobiles.

The expected depression did not arrive and before the old wave of prosperity had a chance to subside a new wave of popular buying, greater than the old, sweeps over the industry. Old car owners are buying new and larger models and new owners are being produced by the millions annually.

Neither public nor industry will waste words hereafter in guessing at the country's capacity for automobiles. Both are convinced it is infinite. The motor problem of today is rather the provision of sufficient highway mileage to hold all the automobiles and motor trucks.

The public's capacity for installment buying is obviously not less limited than its desire for automobiles. When the last payment on the first car is made they are ready for the first installment on a new one.

MR. OLDFIELD IN WONDERLAND

AS THIS presidential campaign progresses, it becomes increasingly apparent that Democratic leaders are existing in a Wonderland no less marvelous and no less amusing than that which gave Alice to the world. Nothing is quite what it seems to be, nothing means what it is supposed to mean, and you must keep running to stay where you are.

First came Mr. John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic national committee, with his touch-and-go tour of the Midwest. He had time for little more than to exchange pleasantries in the farm states, but he returned to New York City with 309 electoral votes safely stowed away in his political tool-kit. He gave them, in a manner of speaking, to the newspaper men. The newspapermen pondered the gift for a day or two and then demanded more. Mr. Raskob, in his magnanimous way found another parcel of 68 votes that he had forgotten the first time. These, too, he gave to the political writers.

Thus, having settled the presidential contest, Mr. Raskob yielded the floor to Representative William A. Oldfield of Arkansas, chairman of the Democratic Congressional committee, who is recognized by his colleagues to be a better claimer than the manager of a fourth-rate prize fighter and a worst prophet than a rule-o'-thumb weatherman. Mr. Oldfield claims on general grounds—or no grounds at all—just to be sociable. It's pleasant. It doesn't require top-heavy mental equipment and doesn't cost a cent.

Mr. Oldfield has figured that it will require the overturn of only twenty-three seats to give the Democrats control of the house in the seventy-first congress. Mr. Oldfield has overturned all of them with the gleeful irresponsibility of a hallowe'en prankster. Missouri will go Democratic because Mr. Oldfield talked to several leaders (Democratic, of course) in St. Louis, who said it would. In Tennessee it's all over but the shouting because Mr. Oldfield has surveyed the state. In Kentucky he claims everything but the blue grass. Arkansas is "in the bag" for good and all. The Democrats in Pennsylvania are financing their own campaign and that, by a subtle twist of logic, is an undeniable indication of victory.

It is discouraging that neither Mr. Raskob nor Mr. Oldfield has claimed Kansas—discouraging for the reason that both owe a sentimental allegiance to the state. For it was from Kansas, you remember, that Alice was swept into Wonderland.

BYGONES ARE BYGONES IN BUSINESS

THE business man or manufacturer whose hopes for the future are wrapped up in an expected return to pre-war normalcy is out on a limb. For pre-war normalcy never will return. That's history.

We still hear suggestions and hopes of reverting to old-time methods and the pre-war business basis, but, according to Dr. Julius Klein, of the United States Department of Commerce, "such a retrogression would be about as simply as an attempt to return to the middle ages—and about as profitable."

There isn't a great deal of room in business these days for Aunt Sarah, who inherited a shoe factory and insisted that the factory go on making highlaced shoes because Uncle Ezra sold 'em in the '70s. American business never was more dynamic and volatile than it is today, with a constantly changing front in practically all lines.

Since 1921, Mr. Klein points out, American business has left as monuments of its progress a long succession of junk-heaps of discarded processes, antiquated ideas and obsolete policies. There have been tragedies of those who clung too long to revered and once profitable practices.

The new business man must be eager to take advantage of the slightest changes in trend. It is no day for secrecy. Backward glimpses should not be longing and desirious of what is behind, but intelligently inquisitive of facts.

Shape isn't the only essential thing in a bathing beauty contest. There's brass.

Best Political Speech.

To Rule the Wind.

Ladies' Queer Pets.

Wales' 7,000,000 Ton Tee.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE (Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

Secretary Mellon talks about business strictly as business, no thought of politics.

But his optimistic statement on business conditions and future prosperity is the strongest Republican political speech that could have been made.

The strongest instinct in man is self-preservation, and most important to self-preservation is prosperity.

Blowing 150 miles an hour a tropical hurricane swept over Porto Rico, doing great damage. At the same time a tornado killed 11 persons, and injured many in Nebraska and South Dakota.

Such tornadoes are more dangerous, far more frequent than earthquakes. But science can forsee a day when high winds will be under man's control.

Their cause is understood. And in days far off, perhaps 50,000 years, perhaps 500,000 years hence, when men control the earth's temperature, transferring surplus heat from the Equator to the Poles, the wind will no more blow "where it listeth," but where a man says that it shall blow, and at a speed prescribed by him.

There is nothing fanciful about that.

Ladies that like queer pets to help make them conspicuous will rejoice at news from the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute for breeding science, near Berlin. New animals produced by breeding include yellow rats, blue monkeys, and rabbits bearing chinchilla fur, almost genuine. Those rabbits will interest Los Angeles.

The learned Prof. Bauer can do marvelous things with animal life, crossing, inbreeding, etc. But he and all other biologists, with all their science, could not produce one living mosquito.

Napoleon in Egypt told his soldiers that twenty centuries were looking down upon them from the top of the Pyramids.

The Prince of Wales in Egypt could address no invading army, although his country fully controls and practically owns Egypt, which is more than Napoleon ever did.

The Prince didn't waste his opportunity, however. He climbed the Great Pyramid, and from the top drove a golf ball that fell to earth, he knew not where.

The "tee" from which that ball was driven is made of 7,000,000 tons of stone, plus the labor of 100,000 men working for 20 years under the lash—a very interesting "drive."

Two young girls, acting as pickets, and arrested in the textile strike at New Bedford, were promptly expelled from the local "Young Women's Christian Association."

The girls' offense was trying to help fellow workers, and enable wives of workers to take better care of their children. In short, they were doing what the Founder of Christianity Himself would have done.

The amiable ladies in control of that Young Women's Christian Association should strike the name "Christian" from the name of their association, and go ahead as usual.

Another 4,000,000 share day, Friday, in Wall Street, with plus signs everywhere in the list.

"Collateral borrowing," euphemism for "borrowing for speculation," increased ninety-six millions for the week, and everybody thought it quite reasonable. Between forty and fifty stocks reached their highest price for this year.

Be careful how you sell them short, they may go higher.

"Big Steel" touched 159⅞, highest price ever. That surely interested the late Judge Gary, looking down on the steeple of Trinity Church.

Happy the Stock Exchange broker whose untutored mind sees everything going up, including the value of his membership. One seat is sold for $415,000. At that price, the 1,100 exchange seats would be worth $456,500,000. You can't persuade Wall Street that prosperity isn't real.

The inevitable happens in Paris where ladies will no longer be exhibited with nothing on.

Theatrical managers and the younger set may not know it, but the human race got tired of nakedness more than 100,000 years ago.

Paris revues are presenting young ladies dressed, or at least, covered all over with silk. Undressed ladies bore theater goers.

Nothing could be more hideous than promiscuous nudity. Every Turkish bath proves it.

Two million five hundred thousand dollars in gold came from London, making business men hope for cheaper money.

That all depends on the Federal Reserve and big banks that have joined in establishing usury as the basis of business in New York's financial circles. It is not pleasant for a usurer having tasted blood to resume obedience to law and decency.

The owner of "Lucky," a female police dog, wanted to prove that the dog could swim from Albany to New York down the Hudson. The "Cruelty Society" says she mustn't do it.

There should be some society to protect young women from channel swimming and similar exhausting efforts, turning them to raising children. Also something to protect young men from stupid races across the continent, or marathon races, utterly useless, worthless, now that the telegraph and telephone and automobile are invented.

The people with fool notions are just those people whose fool notions are different from yours.

Baseball is sort of a hit-and-miss way of making a living, isn't it?

When a man is a terror to the law-abiding people as well as to the lawless, it is time to shut his wind off or put him on the pan.

The pumpkin that used to attract crowds at the county fairs is losing out. In these days of thrills they want an airplane or something else exciting.

No place to go but home is great luck.

When we read of an airplane going up with 500 gallons of gasoline on board, or three tons of weight and about 10 barrels, we wonder what kind of resistance the earth would put up when the load comes down from a height of several thousand feet.

A woman is a person who thinks it's against the law to take your time about answering the telephone.

Happiness isn't acquired by closing the shutters to keep the sun from fading the things in the living room.

A school zone to a driver who has the welfare of the boys and girls at heart is more than the space right in front of a schoolhouse. It means several blocks in every direction to him. Some of the birds who go romping past the schoolhouses should be put in jail.

Hearts oft agree where wise heads differ.

The use of natural gas fell off over a billion feet last year. However, there was no falling off in hot air.

A world's religious peace conference will be called in 1930, probably in India. We hope something will be done to smooth out church fights at that conference and that it will be a peaceful gathering.

The way some motorists speed one would think they are doing a Lindbergh across the Atlantic.

Democratic leaders are claiming that Governor Smith will carry Pennsylvania. If this happens some of the "leading Democrats" will be more out of the patronage than ever, even if Smith is not elected. Being a real Democrat and repudiating Smith is not so good for the leading boy if certain things come to pass—Smith's election, for instance. It will be just a case of them electing local Democrats and nothing else.

We heard a man say yesterday that if it was not for hell a lot of people would have no place to go. Does seem that way.

It is said that blue monkeys, yellow rats and rabbits with chinchilla fur on them really exist in Germany. In this country after going through certain libations one can see in addition to those things also pink elephants, etc.

We notice with more or less dismay, as all full-sized men will, that the Jimmy in the Primer Hat is back again for fall wear. Those hats are all right for little runts.

We feel that it is not up to this newspaper to boost the private enterprises of strangers who blow into New Castle and try to gather a roll of money with their stunts and get out. And what's more, we are not going to do it.

There are still some canals in Pennsylvania. We noticed one running parallel with the Delaware river at the Delaware river gap and running south for many miles from there. The boats are still pulled by mules that travel along what we think is called a toe path. It is quite a sight to watch this canal. It runs for some distance along the Roosevelt Highway.

The only boyish figures we ever saw when we were young were in the arithmetic class.

On last Saturday Mrs. Harvey Brest of Walmo, on R. D. No. 3, brought to the Hints and Dints man at The News office a box of fine peaches. ONE SUCCESSFUL FARMER.

George Washington was a successful farmer. He ought to be running for the Presidency today. He certainly farmed on a large scale at Mount Vernon.

There were several large farms included in his estate, the greater part of which was under cultivation, and more than 300 servants to be housed, fed, clothed, and looked after.

It is said that in 1787, "he had 580 acres in grass, 400 acres in oats, 700 acres in wheat, and the same number in corn, with several hundred acres of barley, buckwheat, potatoes, peas, beans and turnips."

"His livestock included 140 horses, 120 cows, 226 working oxen and steers, 500 sheep, and of hogs, many, almost numberless, running at large in the woodlands and marshes."

"He employed 250 hands, and kept a score of plows going during the entire year. In 1780 he killed 150 hogs for the use of his own household and the negroes on the great plantation."

There are many great and successful farmers yet left in these United States, but the unsuccessful one would probably have some mean fling at the "Father of His Country" were he again a candidate.

Wisconsin Primary Results Give Conservatives Comfort

Some Republicans See Waning Of LaFollette Power In Nomination Of Kohler; Other Observers Find State Still A Puzzle

Conservative Republicans find comfort in the outcome of the Wisconsin primaries, notwithstanding differences of opinions among observers generally as to the significance of the nomination of Walter J. Kohler, conservative, for Governor while young Senator LaFollette was winning his battle for re-nomination.

"The outcome is hardly to be taken as any distinct sign of how Wisconsin may go in the national election," according to the ALBANY EVENING NEWS (Ind. Rep.) "but if it shows anything at all, it indicates that the conservative Republicans are asserting themselves. * * * Wisconsin shows signs of coming back to the ranks of regulars, although there were so many questions involved that the result is not a decisive sign in the national election."

"It is to be hoped," exclaimes the AKRON BEACON JOURNAL (Rep.) "that now that the primary contest is over, some of the leaders in Wisconsin politics will find their voices. Hitherto they have taken little notice that two national political conventions have been held, and have chosen candidates for the presidency. One cannot tell from their words whether they are for Smith or Hoover."

"Nomination of the millionaire manufacturer, Kohler, for governor," in the opinion of the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN (Ind. Rep.) "must beconsidered in view of the fact that the LaFollistas were divided and that, had the vote of the rival progressives been joined, it would have topped that of the conservative Kohler. * * * His vote is a substantial assurance of the first seat of power that the conservative Republicans have had in the State Government of Wisconsin for many years, and it is encouraging to the Hoover managers."

Kohler's position as a minority candidate also is mentioned by the NEWARK EVENING NEWS (Ind.), which contends that "unbiased experts fear to make a prediction at this stage as to whether the result in Wisconsin is favorable to Mr. Hoover or Governor Smith." The DULUTH HERALD (Ind. Rep.) holds that "about all that be safely drawn from the primary election is the deduction that Wisconsin is still something of a political puzzle, and that 'LaFollette' is still a name to conjure with in that State."

"The probable explanation is that of personality of the candidates," declares the SPOKANE SPOKESMAN-REVIEW (Rep) "LaFollette is renominated by vote of nearly two to one, but his running mate, Beck, was defeated." The Washington paper thinks "it would seem that a majority of the Republicans of Wisconsin want to be radical in the nation but conservative at home."

In the opinion of the JACKSON CITIZEN PATRIOT (Ind.) the LaFollette strength has waned. "Senator LaFollette had a weak opponent and he won the nomination easily," says the Michigan paper. "He was the beneficiary of sentiments of loyalty inherited from the leadership long exercised by his father. But those sentiments were not strong enough to put across the nomination of his candidate for governor against an avowed conservative."

"The outcome proves conclusively," according to the judgment of the SYRACUSE HERALD (Ind.), however, "that the LaFollette ascendancy remains unshaken. Aside from the three-sided contest for the gubernatorial nomination, the LaFollette faction swept the field. Senator LaFollette himself, a candidate for renomination, led his conservative Republican opponent, George W. Mead, by a majority exceeding two to one, and the minor progressive candidates for State offices were all successful."

A general review from the HOUSTON CHRONICLE (Dem.) places Wisconsin in the position of "apparently feeling that young Bob is well qualified to wear his father's shoes," and that "his political apprenticeship under the tutelage of his father and George Norris of Nebraska has fitted him for leadership," althought that paper makes the reservation that "whether or not young Lafollette can retain control of the State government in Wisconsin is doubtful."

Kohler's nomination, as viewed by the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS (Ind.) "will greatly strengthen the chances of Herbert Hoover in November," while the NEW YORK EVENING POST (Ind.), conceding that "it cannot be considered as deciding the larger contest," avers that "it is clear that LaFollette's wing of the party is no longer in absolute control," and the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE (Rep.) says: "The extraordinary run made by Walter J. Kohler, the conservative Republican candidate for Governor, is significant. It carries forward the gradual return to political normalcy in that State which has been registered for some time. It furnishes solid ground for expecting a Hoover victory in Wisconsin in November."

"Some people have learned that there is a citizen of the State by the name of Walter J. Kohler, and that his capabilities are so well known that it is believed he will be an acceptable governor," remarks the MADISON WISCONSIN JOURNAL (Ind.). The TULSA WORLD (Ind.) sets forth that "Kohler is described as a broad-minded man, of unusual ability in public affairs. For many years he has been agitating the matter of bringing industries into Wisconsin."

"The nomination of Mr. Kohler is perhaps a sign," states the SPRINGFIELD UNION (Rep.), "that the Republican voters have at last regained control over their political destinies. The BELOIT DAILY NEWS (Rep.) feels that " a second slate smashing indicates that swatting the Madison ring at biennial intervals is coming to be regarded by the Badger electorate as a healthy civic habit."

The ST. LOUIS GLOBE DEMOCRAT (Ind.) concludes: "Mr. Kohler is a new figure in public life who may draw no small attention to himself in the next two years, and it may be that Wisconsin is about ready for a new leader."

Dr. Crane's Editorial

BOOTLEGGING

Bootlegging is a term that is applied to traffic in any illicit material. The name is most usually used in connection with the unlawful sale of liquor since the Eighteenth Amendment.

It was a large and flourishing business, however, long before the prohibition of alcoholic liquors, and it is still considerable.

There are certain things that people want to do that are injurious to their health and dangerous to society. Appealing to personal liberty they claim they have a perfect right to do these things. There is no such thing as absolute personal liberty in orderly society. Civilization rests upon the fact that we forego certain personal liberties for the common good.

People may think that they have a perfect right to run lotteries, but the government properly prohibits them from doing this because the net result of a lottery is loss and misery. So people think they have a right to use opium, heroin and cocain, if they so desire, and it is nobody's business. But enlightened government sees that the effect of procuring these drugs and using them freely is deplorable in the extreme.

There is an annual crop of about sixteen thousand tons of opium alone while only about three hundred and fifty tons are needed for medical and scientific purposes.

Many attempts have been made to curb this nefarious traffic, but the greed of those who make tremendous profits in it is stronger than government.

China delivered an edict in 1906 declaring the extermination of the poppy, from which opium is produced, within ten years. The republic of China in 1918 made a $36,000,000 bonfire of all the opium it could get a hold of, but the greed of man was too strong. Opium paid too much, taxes for a government to be honest. There was too much money to be made in opium smuggling.

The United States withdrew from the last international conference at Genoa because there was no world agreement on limiting the traffic of narcotic drugs.

Political, social and business interests would be hurt by stopping the growth of the poppy.

Hence, says a recent writer, "the poppy blooms freely and even increases in its domain, especially in China, Turkey, Persia and India; and the coca plant, originally a native of South America, is spreading its roots in the soil of Ceylon, Java and Japan. Germany, Switzerland, France and other countries are busy turning out tons of derivatives."

So long as a business is profitable some men will pursue it utterly regardless of human wreckage.

Tomorrow—The Election.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE GREAT MAN

I saw a great man passing by,
There was an egg stain on his tie.
He must be careless, just as I.

One button from his vest was gone,
Thought I, that sight's a common one.
Even great men's buttons won't stay on.
And then I fancied it may be,
For little flaws so plain to see
His wife scolds him, as mine does me.

Perhaps she shakes her head and sighs,
And ridicules the hat he buys,
And wishes he'd wear cleaner ties.

Men may achieve the heights of fame,
But still this fellowship we claim;
In little things we're much the same.

Kidnapers Again Threaten Father Of Missing Child

Father Warned By Kidnapers Of William Ranieri; Plans Made To Behead Him

STILL DEMANDING $60,000 RANSOM

Officials Work Frantically To Rescue Boy From Clutches Of Mafia Gang

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—"Would you know your own son's head if you saw it?"

This is the latest ghoulish and cryptic message to be received by Frank Ranieri here today from the mysterious realms of Sicilian terrorists, who are holding his 10-year-old son, Billy, for a ransom of $60,000.

The message was received by the distracted father while squads of heavily armed bureau detectives were searching the Melrose Park section of Chicago in a last minute attempt to rescue the lad from his Mafia abductors. The wives of two of the prisoners suspected of the kidnaping had sent the officers there when they declared positively that that was the rendezvous of the kidnapers.

Two Under Arrest

One of the men held, Angelo Petitti, authorities said, is Chicago's newest cammorist chieftain and actual head of the kidnaping plot. The other is Salvatore Mastrianni, confessed "penman" for a Black Hand extortion ring.

Struggling to shield their husbands the women told police all they knew of the crime. They intimated that their husbands were acting under orders from higher authorities of the Mafia.

Meanwhile, Petitti was being grilled by Assistant State's Attorney Samuel Hoffman. For more than eight hours the Sicilian stoutely denied his connection with the kidnaping plot. However, at the end of the inquisition Hoffman declared that Petitti had revealed to him the operation of a gigantic extortion ring. "In the past thirty days," said Hoffman, "The extortionists have victimized, at least 50 Sicilians, taking from them large sums of money.

Petitti, the assistant state's attorney charges, was the leader of the plots and that his operations cover a period of ten years, during which countless citizens have paid heavy tribute.

Father Meets Suspect

Confronted with Petitti, the boy's father openly charged him with the kidnaping of his son.

"He took him," cried the enraged father. "He doesn't work and he didn't get fat by being honest. I know him. He has two automobiles. How did he get them?"

Petitti cowered and whimpered that he knew nothing of the plot. When told that his wife had broken the traditionary silence of the Mafia he turned from the cringing prisoner to the silent stoic.

Petitti's statement that he was in no way connected with the abduction was flatly contradicted by Mastrianni, who told the assistant state's attorney that he had seen Petitti in long conversations with the kidnaped boy's father.

Out of this maze of contradictions Assistant State's Attorney Hoffman is confident that he will have the necessary information shortly to formally charge Petitti with kidnaping meantime the entire citizenry of Chicago was reported in a mood that boded ill for such gangsters and their political sponsors.

PALM BEACHES SEEM TO BE STORM CENTER; DETAILS ARE MEAGER

MOVES TOWARD TAMPA

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 17.—Moving northwestward at the destructive rate of 100 miles an hour, the West Indian hurricane today swept the lower central portion of Florida and was rushing toward Tampa.

At 6:20 o'clock eastern standard time the center of the storm apparently was believed in the vicinity of Lakeland. In touch with its correspondent, International News Service was informed today the storm was the worst in Lakeland's history.

Communication Fails

The barometer had fallen to 28.80 and the howling gale had smashed windows and unroofed houses, similar to the damage done to the east coast cities. Just then the shaky wire snapped and efforts to regain the connection were futile.

A wide stretch of territory, extending from Jacksonville south was virtually isolated today as the result of the hurricane which swept in from the West Indies after causing great loss of life and damage in Porto Rico.

The whole state felt the fury of the hurricane, which apparently was centered at West Palm Beach on the east coast. This city has been isolated for some time and relief and scouting parties were moving toward that city by automobile from Miami, which escaped the brunt of the storm.

Train Service Crippled

Train service was at a standstill, as alarming reports were received of bridges destroyed south of Fort Pierce. Meantime wrecking crews have been sent from Miami to Palm Beach to clear the highways, reported littered with fallen trees and debris.

The Red Cross organized a relief squad, which was prepared to move on toward the stricken cities as soon as the word was given.

Just before Palm Beach became isolated the city reported a 125-mile-an-hour gale which tore off roofs, snapped telephone and telegraph wires and uprooted trees. First reports were that the storm was worse than the one which devastated Miami exactly two years ago. The Palm Beaches escaped with a light damage then, but appear to have suffered the brunt of the blow this time.

Dispatches from International News Service's Tampa correspondent today reported that city "dug up" for the hurricane when it is due to strike sometime today.

Storm Nears Coast

At six a. m. today the new day broke with rain and a barometer reading of 29.0 and the wind was reported at 25 miles an hour, but this was expected to grow in intensity as the center of the storm neared the west coast.

Tampa was in total darkness during most of the night, but light service was restored later.

Tarpon Springs reported a barometer reading of 29.22 and a wind of 50 miles.

Radio reports over the Gulf radio station here from Miami said there was comparatively little damage and no loss of life there.

Plant City reported a gale of 40 miles and barometer reading of 29.00.

Jupiter, Hollywood, Stuart, Fort Pierce and Fort Lauderdale also suffered from the hurricane.

Sweeps Eastern Coast

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 17.—The lashing hurricane that left death and devastation in its wake in Porto Rico swept over the eastern coast of Florida today, sending frantic refugees helter skelter seeking safety.

The storm struck the east coast between Melbourne and Fort Lauderdale with full force, quickly cutting out all communication with Palm Beach, Avon Park, Okeechobee City and Moorehaven.

An unofficial radio report from West Palm Beach at 7 o'clock last night stated that roofs were flying through the air and that the wind had attained a velocity of 100 miles an hour. The operator signed off with the statement that he was going to seek a safer place for his station.

Storm Veers

Latest reports indicate that the storm has veered slightly from the course is was expected to follow, swinging around to the south in a more westerly direction. At six o'clock yesterday afternoon it appeared that the hurrican was headed in northwesterly direction from West Palm Beach and set to strike with full force the section between the Palm Beaches and Tampa.

Reports from Tampa, Clearwater and Lakeland indicated that the full force of the storm would go south of these points.

Lake Wales reported a barometer reading of 29:20 and with heavy rains and winds of 50 miles per hour.

Tampa reported a reading of 29.29 at 1:50 o'clock Eastern Standard time this morning, stating that the wind was gaining in velocity and that it was raining hard.

Lakeland reported a barometic pressure of exactly 29, the lowest it has known since the hurricane of 1926. At 2 o'clock the wind was raging at about 50 miles an hour and getting stronger. Missimmee had a 50 mile wind and barometer pressure of 29.03.

Miami feels that it escaped the worst part of the storm. The maximum wind velocity for the day was 60 miles an hour and with a hard steady rain. Barometric pressure was 29.14 at seven o'clock.

From Moorehaven an unofficial report stated that the entire population, fearing a repetition of 1926, had left the city and was headed in all directions seeking safety from the lashing swirl of wind and water.

Across the lake from Moorehaven, Okeechobee City was in the path of the storm center. At 2 o'clock this morning the town was isolated with all wires down and apparently no radio stations operating.

The hurricane apparently covered a diameter of 150 to 200 miles when it struck the east coast barely reaching as far north as Daytona Beach where the wind velocity was estimated at 40 miles an hour.

Orlando reported a drastic drop in barometer pressure from 29.60 to 19.10 in four hours. At Clearwater the American Legion ordered all members of the local Post to stand by for action when the storm arrived. At 1 o'clock this morning the wind velocity had reached 60 miles an hour.

Heavy rains and intermittent squalls accompanied the rain.

At Daytona Beach

Daytona Beach, Fla., Sept. 17. — A heavy rain drenched the Florida hurricane belt today accompanied by strong winds ranging from 60 to 75 miles an hour.

Considerable damage was done here to plate glass windows, signs, shrubbery and trees. The streets in the business district were littered with wooden signs, benches and other debris.

The tide was running unusually high against the ocean seawall and along the Halifax river fronting the mainland. Waves were lapping over the wall onto the river front parks.

A motor boat moored near the south bridge was dashed to pieces against the pilings. Several automobiles which ventured out were flooded with water and abandoned in the streets.

Telephone and telegraph wires were down in many places.

At 9 a. m., the barometer was 29.25, the lowest in years and the gale of 60 miles an hour was continuing with unabated force. Considerable damage was being done to windows, trees and small river craft. Two unoccupied frame houses on the ocean front were demolished.

The city was rapidly filling with refugees from the south, fleeing here for shelter from the storm. Most of these interviewed reported they witnessed heavy damage done by the storm, but no deaths or injuries.

Hurricane Will Last 36 Hours

No Abatement In Intensity Of Storm For 24 Hours At Least

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17. — The West Indian hurricane sweeping the Florida peninsula "good for another 36 hours" weather bureau officials declared today.

"There will practically be no abatement of the intensity of the storm for 24 hours tapering down to normalcy or a little above it, at the end of 36 hours.

Tampa, in the opinion of the weather bureau, may possibly escape a severe lashing by the storm. It was pointed out the west coast city is naturally somewhat protected from storms blowing from the east, and that early today wind velocity in Tampa was only 24 miles an hour. Barometer readings, however, were low.

The storm, according to latest reports to the bureau was just east of Tampa and moving in a northwesterly direction.

No Word Received By Local Owners Of Porto Rican Land

Local Owners Hear No Word From Plantation Located Near Ravaged Districts

No word has been received here as yet, despite cablegrams sent Friday to Porto Rico, concerning the plantation of the Standard Fruit Co., owned by New Castle, New Wilmington and Sharon business men. The plantation consisting of 500 acres of sugar cane and fruit lands is located at Vega Baja in the interior of the island some 25 miles distant from San Juan.

J. G. Patterson of New Wilmington, secretary of the locally owned concern, who has been in the vicinity of the ravaged districts reports that a hill of considerable size separates the plantation from the San Juan district.

The manager of the plantation was cabled last Friday and as yet no word has been received from him. It is thought that the plantation is not included in the destroyed districts and that the cablegrams have not reached him on account of the land being situated in the interior at the other side of the present scene of disaster.

The plantation has been owned by the local concern for some years. Will Cummings is president of the concern, while James G. Patterson is secretary.

Governor Smith Heads Westward; Plans Speeches

Smith Special Train Starts Into Mid-West Complete In Every Detail

SPEAKS IN OMAHA TUESDAY NIGHT

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ABOARD GOVERNOR SMITH'S SPECIAL TRAIN, Sept. 17.—Governor Al Smith headed westward today on the greatest political adventure of the campaign.

Upon his success or failure in the Rooseveltian task of "Winning the West" may conceivably hinge the outcome of the presidential race.

With characteristic courage and audacity, the New York governor has set out to carry his fight into territory that if not inimical to his candidacy, at least is traditionally Republican.

The man in the brown derby from the sidewalks of New York is going West to talk progressivism to audiences in eight states.

He is going to outline a program of agricultural relief tomorrow night in Omaha, the heart of the grain belt. He is going further than the Republicans have yet been willing to go in meeting the demands of the farm organizations who fought so bitterly and so futilely for the McNary-Haugen bill. And thereafter audiences in Oklahoma, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin, are going to hear from his lips his ideas and policies on water power development, transportation, the tariff, intolerance, foreign affairs, immigration, conservation and prohibition.

The governor plans to "duck nothing" according to his intimates. It is to be, they say, a militant invasion of the West, conducted by a skilled political leader who has piled up the amazing record of having stood for public office 19 times and who has been defeated once in that long span of years.

It is the third time that Governor Smith has been West in his life, twenty years ago he was a delegate to the Democratic convention at Denver that nominated William Jennings Bryan. Eight years ago he went to San Francisco and witnessed the nomination of James M. Cox. Save for those two trips, Governor Smith has lived his entire political life east of the Hudson river.

The schedule has been so arranged as to take him through the heart of the so-called "Progressive West", and the so-called "Lafollette country". He will close his two weeks tour in "Fighting Bob's" own state of Wisconsin with a speech in Milwaukee on the night of September 29.

Seeks Wisconsin Vote

The big prize of the trip is frankly conceded by Democratic leaders to be the Lafollette vote of 1924. They believe that where goes the Lafollette vote in 1924—more than five millions of them—there in all probability goes the election. Yet his vote in the five other states on the Smith schedule was sufficient that combined with the Davis vote it exceeded that of Coolidge, nothwithstanding the great Republican sweep of that year.

Feeling confident in the East and secure in the South, notwithstanding the dry disaffection and religious split, the Democratic "best minds" believe if they can hold the normal Democratic vote of the West and win the Lafolette vote of 1922 the election of Governor Smith is not only possible but distinctly probable.

Governor Smith headed toward the Mississippi today in one of the most completely equipped and luxurious trains that ever whistled by a water tank.

It consists of 11 cars back of the engine, and its personnel runs almost to a hundred people. Considerably more than half of these, are correspondents and photographers.

They occupy three cars in addition to one car given over entirely to working quarters for them.

Radio Announcer

There is even a special radio announcer who will preside at the "mike" and make the introductions at all the national hook-ups where Governor Smith speaks. There are typists, stenographers, messengers, mimeographers, telegraphers and what not.

Governor Smith's personal party comprise in addition to Mrs. Al. Smith, his daughter, Mrs. John A. Warner; Mrs. Caroline O'Day, vice chairman of the Democratic State committee of New York; William F. Kenny, a personal friend of the governor; Major General William N. Haskell, commander of the New York National guard; Comptroller Charles W. Berry of New York City, who is the physician of the trip; Justice Joseph M. Proskauer of the New York Supreme court, and Justice Bernard L. Shientag of the city court of New York.

The Governor and Mrs. Smith occupy Kenney's private car "The St. Nicholas."

Governor Smith is also accompanied westward by ex-Senator and Mrs. Gilbert Hitchcock of Nebraska, and Bruce Kremer, Democratic National committeeman from Montana. Senator Hitchcock will introduce the governor to his audience in Omaha tomorrow night. Kremer will act as the governor's guide and mentor through Montana. The train is running a special with no stops, other than operating stops, before Chicago.

THIRD-CLASS CITY DELEGATES BEGIN TO ASSEMBLE HERE

Craig, Chester, and to which William T. Burns, this city, will reply.

There will be a roll call of cities on the foregoing subject and at noon Walter V. Tyler will pilot delegates to the sewage disposal plant.

Luncheon will follow and the afternoon session will open at 2 o'clock.

To Name Committees.

President Gillespie will name committees for the ensuing year as follows: auditing committee of three, nominating committee of three and legislative steering committee to serve after which Hon. A. A. Cochran, Chester, will deliver an address on "Annexation."

There will be various phases of city planning, zoning and civic development discussed as follows: "Our Improving Cities" by Francis J. Mulvihill, Harrisburg; "Recreation and Facilities" by Leo J. Buettner, Johnstown, and "Park and Playgrounds" by R. L. Fox, Bethlehem.

Legislation that is necessary and proposed by the league will be handled from all angles during the latter part of the afternoon and some of the topics to be pored through follow:

"Some necessary state legislation"—S. S. Horn, mayor of Easton.

"Five per cent rebate on county tax in cities of the third class"; "Financing municipal improvements"; "Amendments to the act requiring state supervision of bond issues, particularly with reference to indebtedness for public improvements."

"Noxious weeds and their control" and "employes' retirement and pensions" will be discussed during the afternoon. The city of New Castle is behind the move to eliminate weeds and to force cutting. Only injurious weeds must be cut at present.

Entertainment typical of New Castle will be given to men delegates at the cathedral at 7:30 Tuesday evening. Some of New Castle's most prominent citizens will disport as pseudo councilmen and officials and a "mock council" meeting will be held.

The banquet Wednesday evening to which every man, woman and child in the city is invited will be one of the largest ever held in the cathedral. Federal Judge Frederick P. Schoonmaker and Strickland Gilliland will be the principal speakers.

Tickets costing $2 for the banquet are on sale at The News, Snyder Piano company, Love & Megown and the mayor's office. It is hoped that the citizens attend the banquet as Schoonmaker and Gilliland are two of the best speakers in the country. Gilliland is a nationally known humorist and has appeared here.

Westminster Again Ready For Students

Seventy-Seventh Registration Period Will Begin On Wednesday Morning

NEW STRUCTURES MARK OLD CAMPUS

New Boys' Dormitory, Gift Of New Castle, Ready For Use

By R. X. GRAHAM
(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 17.—This week marks the opening of the 77th college year for Westminster, at which time additional facilities for handling the increasing student body will be available.

College officials and workmen have been busy all summer getting buildings ready for use. By Tuesday every building but the new main structure will be available. It is almost certain that this building will be completed and ready for use in three months.

Eight Cottage Dormitories

Girls of the college will be quartered in the Hillside dormitory and in eight cottage dormitories: Hayes House, Prather House, Robertson House, Minteer House, McKelvey House, Thompson House, Cummings House and Senior Lodge. All freshmen men will be housed in the new Robert Audley Browne hall, built by citizens of New Castle and Lawrence county. Men of the upper classes will live in the five fraternity houses and in private homes about town.

The old Van Orsdell house on Market street, once a clubhouse for men, but more recently a dormitory for women, will not be used as a dormitory this year. In its place the college will have the use of the McKelvey house, which has been moved from the campus to the new Maple street development to the east.

New Fraternity House

A new three-story brick structure on Waugh avenue will be the home of the Epsilon Theta Pi fraternity. This youngest of Greek letter societies at Westminster, only two years old, has made rapid strides. The completion of the new chapter house is a distinct achievement, especially in the face of regulations barring the pledging of freshmen this year, which will necessarily cut off financial income.

Many Faculty Appointments

In addition to 28 old members of the faculty there will be eight new professors on the staff this year. According to announcement by the board of trustees and confirmation in the college office, these new instructors are: H. L. Black, Ph. D., professor of mathematics; Ben Euwena M. A., instructor in English; J. G. Moorhead, M. A., assistant professor of mathematics and physics; the Rev. John Orr, M. A., assistant professor of Bible; A. T. Cordray, M. A., instructor in English and public speaking; Miss Florence E. White, M. A., instructor in modern languages.

Conservatory Reorganized

Professor Alan B. Davis, director of the conservatory of the college, announces that the music faculty has been organized for the coming year. Miss C. Dorothy Kirkbride, Mus. B., of New Wilmington, a graduate of Westminster in the class of 1925, has been appointed professor of piano. Miss Kirkbride has studied in Europe since graduation and during the past year has been assistant professor of piano at Juniata College. Miss Ethel M. McKray, Mus. B., of Earlham, Ia., has been made professor of violin. Miss McKray is a graduate of the Chicago Musical College and of Des Moines College, Ia. Miss Ruby L. Guilliams, Mus. B., instructor in public school music last year, will continue in that capacity.

Miss Lillian Griffith of New Castle is to be secretary to the conservatory faculty. Miss Griffith, a pianist of considerable ability, will be enrolled as a student in the conservatory.

In addition to these appointments Nicholet & Griswold, landscape architects of Pittsburgh, will have a lecturer on the instruction staff of the college. These landscape architects planning the campus development of the college, have been permanently retained by the college for a period of years. Lectures to the student body on the campus development and on the more general subject of landscaping will be given from time to time.

Cafeteria to Open

The cafeteria in the new Robert Audley Browne hall will be formally opened on Monday evening at 5:30, when the football squad, coaches and managers will be guests of C. H. Brown, cafeteria manager, at a testimonial dinner. Dr. W. Charles Wallace will preside at the dinner and a number of newspapermen from the district will be guests of honor.

Registration Wednesday

Registration of students starts on Wednesday morning in the gymnasium and will be continued all day Wednesday and again on Thursday. At 11 o'clock on Thursday morning the convocation chapel service will be held in the United Presbyterian church. Recitations start Friday morning at eight o'clock.

In all probability psychological tests and the Carnegie Foundation tests will be given to entering students during the first few days, but aside from this the time of the class periods will be taken up primarily in designating textbooks used and in orienting the students in the subjects.

The annual "Who's Who", sponsored by the Y. W. and Y. M. organizations of the college, will be held in the gymnasium Saturday night. At this time the upper classmen will have an opportunity of renewing friendships with their fellows and faculty members and the new students will get an opportunity to get acquainted with the professors and other students in an informal way.

Nights Get Colder As Fall Approaches

Average Evening Temperature For Last Week Was 55.7 Degrees

Now that it is September, and autumn is approaching, the nights have been getting cooler, as is stated in the weather for the last week, made available today by B. F. Johnson, weather observer at the City of New Castle Water Company's pump station.

The lowest night temperature recorded last week came Sunday, September 9, when the mercury dropped to 49 degrees. The average night temperature for the week was 55.7 degrees.

Wednesday, September 12, was the warmest day of the week, the thermometer registering 91 degrees. Average day temperature of the week was 85.9 degrees.

No rainfall was recorded. Five days were entirely clear while two were partly cloudy.

CONSTABLE EDWARDS REPORTS AUTO THEFT

Constable William Edwards of Hillsville on Saturday evening advised the city police department that an Essex coupe, 1927 model, Ohio license 877-981 had been stolen in that district and asked the local authorities to be on the lookout for it.

THE BAD WEATHER PROPHET

Mrs. Gray Rabbit might have longer lectured Sonny-Bunny, had not Mrs. Bobolink interrupted the anxious mother.

"Of course Cormorant did have a splendid time on his trip and learned a lot of things, Sonny-Bunny," said she, "but it was not all fun. He ran into trouble more than once Tell them about the storm and how the poor fellow nearly lost his life, Bob."

Bob did, and Peter and the rabbits were sure from the very start the tale was going to be interesting. It was. Bobolink certainly did know how to tell a story!

"Well, Cormorant had not flown very far from Penguin Island when he began to wish that he were back again. The wind commenced to blow, and at last it grew so strong that he could scarcely make his wings carry him in the direction in which he wished to go.

"And what were the waves trying to do, anyhow? When he had started out they were as clear and calm as the surface of a pond, but now they seemed to be growing angry and cried 'Chop! Chop! Chop!' whenever he looked down at them. Cormorant couldn't imagine what the trouble was but he felt in his bones that something dreadful was going to happen, and there he was all alone over the ocean!

"What should he do? He felt exactly as if some bird greater than himself was about to pounce down upon him—a hawk perhaps, more fierce than the one that had stolen

DOWN UPON THE TOSSING WAVES WAS A BIRD

Cousin Pelican's fish. How should he escape? Where could he fly?

"Just then," continued Bobolink, "Cormorant heard a noise as of pattering feet and flapping wings. Not a sign of anyone was there in the air, but, looking beneath him, down upon the tossing waves was a bird. He was as black as coal and he seemed to be walking upon the water.

"'Hello, friend!' called Cormorant, delighted to see him and sure from the fellow's size that he could do him no harm. 'Who are you, pray tell, and where are you going?'

"'I am Stormy Petrel, the Bad Weather Prophet, and I am going out to sea in the storm,' replied the stranger."

From the Democratic standpoint a mistake was evidently made in fixing the boundary line; Maine should have been ceded to Canada. But it is also to be remembered that Maine was once a part of Massachusetts.—THE SPRINGFIELD, MASS., DAILY REPUBLICAN.

Post Cards From Europe

by William Ivy

PARIS, Sept. 17.—Signor Turati, secretary of the Fascist party, has decreed that foreign wines must no longer be consumed at Fascist gatherings.

It should be explained that in Italy as in all European countires, the ceremonial glass of sparkling wine is an essential accompaniment of every solemn or joyous occasion.

"Italian wines fear no comparison with those of foreign lands," Signor Turati declares, "and frequently are superior to them. Henceforth Italian wines will be served exclusively at Fascist ceremonies."

Signor Turati is talking through his Fascist bonnet. To compare asti spumante with champagne is as idiotic as to match Roman stogies against Havana cigars.

This is the first time that Fascism has been projected into the gastronomical field. Until now that realm had been kept pretty well out of politics, to the great satisfaction of gourmets the world over. One of the dominating characteristics of a gourmet is that he recognizes no frontiers.

Let us hope for a shriek of protest from the finer palates in the Fascist party itself. Let us hope they will arise in shining armor and inform Signor Turati that although Italy produces enormous quantities of respectable second-rate wines, it offers none—that come within miles of the vintages of Champagne, Burgundy and Bordeaux.

If Fascismo wants to boycott French wines in favor of Italian substitutes, it may very well do so on purely patriotic grounds. But it should not attempt the impossible task of persuading connoisseurs, whether Italian or foreign, that they have nothing to lose by the exchange.

Be not deceived! The car that comes out with new designs has the same ones on the pedestrians.

CAR STOLEN AT WAMPUM RECOVERED

It was reported to the police here Saturday night that a Hudson coach 1923 model, Pennsylvania license 822-562, belonging to a Mr. McCready of that place had been stolen from the streets of Wampum. It was later reported that the machine had been found by the owner on the road between Ellwood City and Wampum.

Warns Women to Check High Blood Pressure

Thousands of women at the changing time of life are in danger of high blood pressure. It is caused by poisonous waste matter accumulating in the system or the weakening of one or more organs. This forces the heart to do more work and raises blood pressure.

The symptoms are dizziness, shortness of breath, head pains, flushed face, nervousness or sleeplessness. High blood pressure must be treated at once for everyone knows it is too dangerous and quick acting to disregard its symptoms.

Norma is a doctor's prescription for high blood pressure that has been used with great success.

Norma contains no habit forming drugs, and works in such a way that it lessens the duty of the over-taxed heart and reduces blood pressure swiftly and surely. Often one bottle brings great relief. Get a bottle of Norma today from any drug store, and free yourself from the symptoms of blood pressure.

Ziegfeld Says Flappers Must Put On Weight

Girls To Be "In" Next Year Must Add To Figures And Have More Knowledge

CURVES BACK IN LINE FOR WOMEN

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17. — Curves—the feminine variety—are coming back.

That information comes straight from no less an authority than Florence Ziegfeld himself. And that's not all.

The modern girl, to be "in," "must add a bit of weight. Not much, of course, but just enough to round out her girlish figure a bit.

The Follies impressario in Pittsburgh on business, discussed the modern girl with enthusiasm. She's more lovely than ever, Ziegfeld says.

Not only is the 1929 model flapper to be a bit plumper, but she is to be more intelligent; "Oh, my yes; much more," said Ziegfeld.

Ziegfeld made public the details of a recent encounter with customs officials at Rouses Point, N. Y., recently when a large quantity of 125-year-old Canadian liquor was seized from a private car in which he was a guest.

Dr. Jerome Wagner paid a $5 fine for possession of the contraband, Ziegfeld said.

"I told the customs men that Dr. Wagner's patient—I'm it—needed the liquor badly," said Ziegfeld. But the customs men wouldn't listen."

Captain Smith Makes Golf Course Record

Proves His Ability As A Golfer By Making Local Course In 72

Sunday afternoon while playing in a foursome with Jack Waddington, Norman Friedman and Herbert S. Lambert, Captain V. Arthur Smith, professional of the New Castle Field club, for the second time this season bettered the par of the course by one stroke, making the course in 72 strokes. The par of the course is 73. The score of Captain Smith stands as the record of the course, which is one of the more difficult of this part of the country.

The part of the course in the first nine is 434-454-354 total 36 and the score of Captain Smith on this nine was 434-553-454 total 37. While he made a birdie on Hole No. 6, he required extra strokes on holes No. 4 and 7.

The par of the course on the second nine is 444-345-544 total 37 and Captain Smith made these nine holes in 445-344-434 total 35 or two under par. In these nine holes, he required an extra stroke on hole No. 12 but made birdies or one under par on holes No. 15, 16 and 17, which gave him the advantage of two strokes, as against the one extra required in the first nine.

Five Days May Be Enough For Drunk

But Can Have More If You Want It, Declares Mayor W. H. Gillespie

"Five dollars or five days."

"I'll take the five days."

"Five days? Well, you can have more if you want it."

And thus was the case of a drunk who was found drunk at the intersection of South Jefferson street and Center Way disposed of this morning in police court by Mayor William S. Gillespie.

Frank Ferrieri, of East Long avenue, charged with being drunk and abusing his family, was given $25 or 25 days.

Beard Of Directors Of The Y.M.C.A. Will Elect New Officers

Officers are elected each year from the board of directors to fill the positions of president and treasurer.

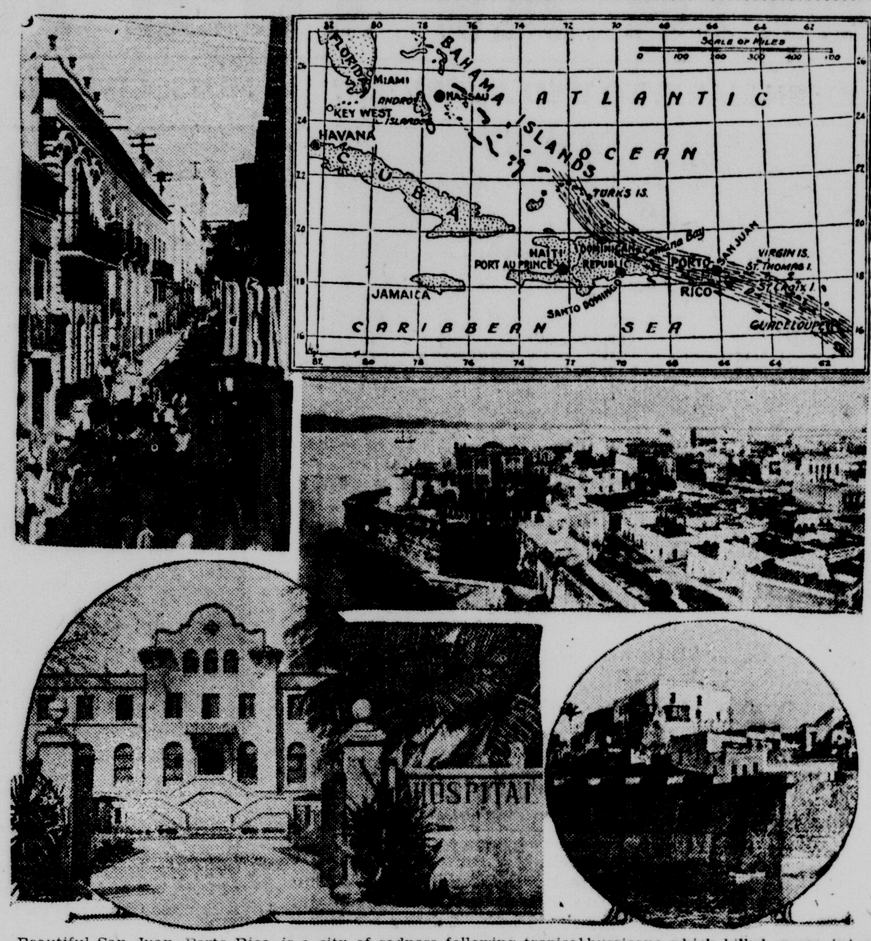
City Laid Waste By Hurricane



Beautiful San Juan, Porto Rico, is a city of sadness following tropical hurricane which killed scores, injured hundreds and rendered thousands homeless. Map shows progress of storm which twisted out of Caribbean near Virgin Islands and headed over Porto Rico toward Florida. Wife Objects To Getting Drunk; Man Assessed $25

When a husband has a habit of bringing moonshine home and getting his wife tipsy on the stuff, there is only one thing to do, and that is to call the police station and have the man incarcerated, or so thinks a South Side woman.

It all happened Sunday afternoon. The husband came home with his usual pint of hooch, all set to get his spouse drunk. But, this time, it was different. Instead of drinking with him, she summoned the law, and Officers Dukes and Lockhard placed the man in the city jail.

Before long, though, he was out on a $25 forfeit. And this morning at police court, he did not appear to defend his case. So, the city is $25 richer.

Registration Of Voters Will Take Place Here Tuesday

Second Registration Day Likely To Be Busy One At The Polling Places

Second registration day for voters of the city will be held tomorrow at the different polling places in the city. County Commissioners' Clerk James Lamoree, calls attention to the fact that the registration place in the fourth district of the second ward, has been moved from the corner of Highland and Leasure avenues to the garage of C. L. Hughes at 224 Euclid avenue.

It is expected that there will be a heavy registration tomorrow. On the last registration day there were many who had to stand in line, especially during the evening, in order to register. Some had to wait as high as an hour. This delay can be avoided if more people would register during the forenoon and afternoon sessions.

Every person who possibly can should register tomorrow, as there is only one more chance, and something might happen that you could not register on the last day. Anyway there are always a lot of eleventh hour voters who wait until the last day, and this means delay in getting registered.

Persons presenting themselves for registration tomorrow should have their county tax receipts with them.

Court To Adjourn For Aiken Funeral

Jurors Excused At Opening Of Court

Seven jurors were excused when court convened this morning. They were E. C. Bowden, Hickory; Mary E. Boyd, Slippery Rock; Howard M. Boyles, Hickory; J. H. Brown, Big Beaver; Frank L. Fisher, Wilmington; John A. Martin, 6th ward and Harry Shoaff, Plaingrove.

Too many boys and girls have been killed and injured by motor vehicle operators who failed to LOOK before backing out of garages. Lawrence County Marriages Fewer

Only 869 Marriages In 1927, As Against 1,011 For 1926

DIVORCES MOUNT AS WEDDINGS FALL

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington News Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 17.—Dan Cupid ran a losing race with the divorce lawyer in Pennsylvania last year, the number of marriages in the state decreasing one and one-half per cent while divorces increased five and two-tenths per cent in number, according to the figures of a survey made public today by the United States department of commerce. In Lawrence county, marriages fell off 14 per cent in number and divorces decreased five per cent last year in comparison with 1926.

In the Keystone state there were 71,130 marriages performed last year as compared with 72,222 in 1926, or a decrease of 1,092. In the same periods, the divorces granted in the state soared from 7,706 in 1926 to 8,108 in 1927, an increase of 402.

In 1916 there were 72,053 marriages performed in the state and 4,980 divorces granted, or 14 marriages for every divorce, while last year only nine marriages were performed for every divorce decree awarded within the state boundaries.

Lawrence county boasted only 869 marriages last year as against 1,011 in 1926, a decrease of 142, while 93 divorces were granted in the county in 1927 as compared with 98 awarded during the prior year, a decline of five.

Lawrence ranked 23rd in the number of marriages and 20th in the number of divorces of the 67 counties of the state last year.

Beaver county led Lawrence with 947 marriages and 139 divorces, but Butler followed Lawrence with only 648 marriages and 28 divorces in 1927.

Scout Executive J. Lee Calahan of Lawrence county was one of the hundred scout executives from both hemispheres who received the first degree in scout executives growth at the fifth bi-annual conference of Boy Scout executives which took place at Cornell university, Ithaca, N. Y., September 5 to 12. One thousand executives from all over the world attended the meeting and of this number but 100 were eligible for initiation.

Eligibility into the new scout order is based on volunteer social service work, attendance at the executive conference and actual study and preparation of a lengthy thesis. Mr. Calahan was eligible as he has done these things.

Upon his return to the scout headquarters this morning he announced the fall roundup which will be an outdoor affair for scouts in October. At this time all badges for scout work of merit during the summer camps will be awarded. There will be approximately eight eagle scouts, states Mr. Calahan.

Troops should get in readiness for this roundup, stated Mr. Calahan, as quite a scout affair is being planned for them at this time. Mr. Calahan is also preparing the program for the fall and winter scout activities.

The plans for the winter scouting activities and the fall roundup and awarding of badges to some hundred boys are in progress and will be announced when the plans are complete.

Erie Conference Pledges Support To Republicans

Methodist Church Staunch In Support Of Hopes For A Dry Nation

PROHIBITION IS MORAL ADVANCE

(Special News Correspondence)

ERIE, Pa., Sept. 17.—That the Erie conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will support Herbert Hoover and the Republican party in the November election was evinced here when a resolution, calling the people of the conference to the support of the party which pledges to defend the Constitution was passed, Saturday afternoon.

The resolution was introduced by the Rev. Dr. Walde Weller of Kane, Pa., and was adopted by the conference after considerable discussion.

"The presidential election now confronting the country has become a great referendum on the question of a dry versus a wet nation. The support of the constitution and the laws supporting it are involved. The supreme importance of the coming election cannot be overestimated," the resolution reads.

"Recognizing the traditional position of the Methodist Episcopal church in the support of the hopes of the Americans for a dry nation and looking upon the present moment as one of untiring opportunity to express our well known position as a church, therefore, be it resolved:

"That we support with all our resources and strength the constitution of the United States, particularly the 28th amendment and the laws for its enforcement;

"That in this presidential election we pledge our efforts and our resources to the candidate who will support the constitution and when elected use his executive influence for its continued enforcement. We cannot do otherwise. We believe that the law can be enforced. We look upon its passage and embodiment in our national law as a great moral advance. We place before our people their responsibility concerning the moral principles involved in the present political situation."

Got So Nervous Had To Quit His Job As Waiter

Local Man Had Other Health Troubles, But Claims Ten Herbs Gave Relief.

"Since taking Ten Herbs, I am in far better condition physically than I have been for years," was the recent statement of Mr. William Lee Howard, 501 E. Lutton Street, New Castle, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily demonstrating this great natural medicine to crowds of men and women of all ages and stations in life.

"For some years I was employed as a waiter in the leading hotel in this city, but my nerves got the best of me," continued Mr. Howard who is a tin-worker. "I could hardly place a cup of coffee or a plate of soup on the table without upsetting it. I had to give up my position and do other work. I had what was perhaps indigestion pains. My liver was out of order and as a result large blotches appeared on my skin. My sleep was broken by having to arise several times at night.

"I read about Ten Herbs in the paper, and made up my mind to give your medicine a fair trial. After taking several bottles, I am glad to say that my whole system seems to have been wonderfully improved. My nerves have regained their former quietness, so that I am able to work on Sundays at one of the leading clubs. Those severe pains have ceased. I can now sleep the night through, as I am not troubled with night-rising any more. My bowels are regular, and the 'liver spots' have cleared altogether. I am pleased to add my endorsement to those of others who have derived great benefits from Ten Herbs."

Many other persons of this section are reporting that Ten Herbs assisted them to overcome such troubles as indigestion, biliousness, nervousness, constipation, rheumatism, neuritis, and a weak, run-down condition.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Groundhog Hunting Causes Accidents

Hunters Get Annual Warning Against Carlessness In Woods

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Sept. 17.—Reports of a half dozen fatal accidents which have occurred recently during hunting of groundhogs today caused John B. Truman, executive secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners, to issue his annual warning to hunters against carelessness.

Although the hunting season for game birds and animals will not begin for six weeks, Truman said that already large numbers of hunters have been in the field after groundhogs.

In almost every instance reported to the board where a fatal accident has occurred the person who did the shooting claimed that the person killed or injured was mistaken for a groundhog.

Truman cited the penalty of a two to five year prison term for a person who mistakes a human being for game. He asserted that there is no excuse for such carelessness and that the Board will be active in the prosecution of cases reported.

Last year 65 persons were killed and 279 injured in hunting accidents.

Smith Family Cops Enrollment Prize For New Castle, Pa.

All hail to the Smith family, for they have some 230 odd adult members in New Castle. At least that's what the city directory says, and we have to take its word. In contrast with the famous Cohen family of New York City, the Cohen clan have but 17 representatives of the order here.

The famous and highly touted Jones family is experiencing a decline it seems, as but 163 of their sisters and cousins now reside here. The Davis family, with noble traditions, ranks 125 strong, while the Davies family is pushing strong for first honors in the similarity of names enrollment.

The Long family numbers 30, but they are somewhat longer than the Lonacre family, who have only four or five. The Evans family congregate and find that they have 73 in the house when all get together. The Emery family is another that has a good representation, a total of 40 in the city.

A number of families, persons of the same name, we mean, by the way, are right in the fight. The Cunninghams, the Luttons, the McClearys, the McConnels, the McMillens, the Martins, the Matthews, the Moores and a score of other proud old names of the city boast of a fair representation. They hover around 20 or 30 and some of them slip past that number by a few.

Then the Exercostas, the Kusnierczyks, The Ziolwoskis, the Zajacs are here also, but in small numbers.

A look through the city directory or telephone book will reveal a wealth of names right here in the city. It is almost an impossibility to determine how many different names there are in New Castle, but it numbers into the thousands.

Monaghan Determined To See Philadelphia Probe Through To End

"This Investigation Will Not Close Until Many Exposes Are Made," Says Monaghan

Several Important Arrests Are Promised For This Week; Probe Is Resumed

By E. L. RAWLEY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 17.—Perturbed Philadelphians rested by the calm of a Sabbath spent under the protecting "blue laws" of 1794, turned again today to the probe of the special grand jury of racketeers and Christmas turkeys.

Interest centered chiefly today in the arrests which Prosecuting Attorney John Monaghan said are imminent as a result of the four weeks' probe. Much interest was also evinced by the report that the list of persons from whom Max "Boo Boo" Hoff played Santa Claus is to be made public. Many others besides police officials and patrolmen are said to have been on the "turkey list" of the "king of bootleggers", as Monaghan terms the little boxing promoter.

Names Withheld.

The arrests to be made this week will include "big fry" too, the prosecutor promises, but refuses to divulge the names of those who will be arrested. The district attorney said the "investigation of police, including members of General Smedley D. Butler's old squad, will continue this week.

The district attorney spiked rumors regarding the possible lapse of the present jury sessions within the course of the next two or three weeks.

"You have heard me say I am going through with this thing to a finish," he declared. "I reiterate I am going to see this thing through to a finish, no matter how long it takes."

An important missing link in the chain of arteries between a distillery in this city and shipment of illegally diverted alcohol to the west has been found by his detectives, Monaghan asserted today.

Federal agents have been looking for this link for a year, he said. Its discovery is going to be of incomparable value in augmenting information already gathered by the jury in its gang and liquor investiagtion, Monaghan claims.

Prepare To Seek Presidential Aid As Strike Looms

More Than 70,000 Railroad Conductors And Trainmen In Mid-West Plan Strike

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—Appeal for Presidential intervention was prepared here today by officials of the railroad brotherhoods following the failure of more than 70,000 railroad conductors and trainmen and representatives of 55 western railroads to agree on an increased wage scale.

After two weeks of negotiations and meetings in which the United States Board of Mediation participated the train service employes and their committee representing the railroads appeared to be no nearer an agreement than the day the wage parley started.

The trainmen are seeking wage increases ranging from 10 to 18 per cent.

Tin City Rocket Places Twelfth

Official Award Made To New Castle Plane In Coast To Coast Race

The silence of several days that followed the safe arrival of the Tin City Rocket, local entry in the coast-to-coast air derby, at Los Angeles, Cal., was broken this morning by a message received by Mrs. D. Roy Bradford, wife of the owner of the big Ryan plane entered from this city.

The message states that the delay in sending the message was due to the fact that Mr. Bradford was waiting for the decision as to the position of the Tin City Rocket in the race at its finish. The official position as announced is 12th.

Mr. Bradford is attending the protest meeting being held at Los Angeles, in which it is sought to have the Waco and Laird entries barred because they are alleged to have not met with the official requirements of the race in their construction, etc. If the protest is allowed the Tin City Rocket will have finished in sixth place in the race instead of 12th and will be in on the money.

The message also states that the local plane is the only one of the 22 that started in its class that did not have to make a forced landing during the entire race, the others being forced to stop between controls by trouble of various kinds.

Mr. Bradford is now awaiting information concerning the requirements of the proposed race on September 19 between Los Angeles and Cincinnati, which he may enter. He will wire as soon as he leaves Los Angeles.

Picking Presidents

1796: The First Real Contest A Sharp One

By CHARLES L. MULLIGAN
Written for Central Press and New Castle News

Some people grumbled over the first president's long tenure of office. They were silenced by Washington himself, who flatly refused to run for a third term. So far this precedent has been rigidly observed, although Grant and Roosevelt aspired to overthrow it.

Partisanship over the succession to Washington was lively. There were no nominations, but the Federalists favored Vice President Adams and Governor Clinton, of New York, and the anti-Federalists, or Republicans, Thomas Jefferson and Senator Aaron Burr.

The people were faced with a difficult problem. Could Washington's place at the helm be filled by any man? Could the nation get along without him, or would there be a break-up?

Adams, though humble of origin and of a personality regarded as "cranky," represented New England ideas of aristocracy. Jefferson a substantial landowner, was a radical thinker and an outspoken progressive.

Adams won by three votes. It weighed heavily on him, and the Jeffersonians did not scruple to rub it in, that while Washington had been twice elected unanimously, he had just squeezed in.

There were 133 electors, chosen partly by popular vote and partly by state legislatures. Again each elector wrote down two names. The result of the voting:

John Adams, Massachusetts, 71 votes (elected president).
Thomas Jefferson, Virginia, 68 votes (elected vice president).
Thomas Pinckney, S. Carolina, 59.
Aaron Burr, New York, 30.
Samuel Adams, Massachusets, 15.
Oliver Ellsworth, Connecticut, 11.
George Clinton, New York, 7.

John Adams

John Jay, New York, 5.
James Iredell, North Carolina, 3.
George Washington, Virginia, 2.
John Henry, Maryland, 2.
Samuel Johnson, North Carolina, 2.
Charles C. Pinckney, S. Carolina, 2.

This showed the awkwardness of the early scheme of president-making. It elected two bitter political opponents to serve together, to the destruction of harmony.

(This is the third of a series of 35 digests of presidential campaigns. The fourth will be: "1800: The First Tie Vote in History; Jefferson Elected by the House.")

Bites Man's Nose Because He Swore At "Dead Peoples"

"He swore at my dead peoples: my peoples who are dead. Then he hit me and I hit him back."

That is the reason that Nick Armondo is in the New Castle hospital this morning with his nose almost bitten off. Andy Sacco was the biter, and he thinks, according to his story, told to Mayor William H. Gillespie this morning in police court, that his actions were entirely justified.

It all started when Andy scared some children who were throwing stones at his tar paper roof. Andy did not like it, and he scared the children away. Nick did not like Andy's attitude. Worse led to worse, and soon they were mixing it.

This morning at police court it was decide to hold Andy until the outcome of the bite could be ascertained.

How he turned my failure into success

"B.O."—my trouble? For a moment I saw red.

But Atkinson was a decent sort and I knew he was talking for my own good. Besides, I was slipping. I worked like blazes. I had plenty of good leads—but no orders. It just seemed that every time I called and had a prospect warmed up, he'd suddenly lose interest and want to be rid of me.

It had me worried. But I never suspected the truth until Atkinson tipped me off. Today I'm not handicapped by "B.O."—you know, Body Odor. Let me tell you the little secret that changed my whole future and helped me win success.

No fear of "B.O." now

Like every normal, healthy person, I perspire. But I never noticed any unpleasant odor about me, so I just assumed I was all right.

That's where I was fooled. When we get used to an odor, we don't detect it. Unknowingly, I did offend.

But since I've changed to Lifebuoy, I've said goodbye to "B.O." worries for good. A Lifebuoy bath certainly makes me feel clean and fresh. Its antiseptic lather deodorizes pores. And now that I've gotten rid of "B.O.", I'm getting ahead faster than ever.

Great for skin, too!

I like the way Lifebuoy lathers and keeps the skin so nice and smooth. My wife loves it for her complexion. The youngsters all use it, too. We feel that Lifebuoy really saves us lots of sickness by removing germs. Lifebuoy has a nice clean smell that rinses away completely.

United States Has Seven Hundred Sixty Five Types Of Cars

Seven hundred and sixty-five different types of cars are now being used by persons in the United States, says Bernard Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club, following his checking up on a recent compilation of cars that are manufactured in this country.

In addition to this, the prices of the cars, states Mr. Hanlon, run from $385 up as high as $12,500. With 765 different types of cars ranging through a list of prices, the public should have no difficulty in choosing the type of car that they desire and also one that will suit their pocketbook.

Mr. Hanlon made this survey recently following the statement of some that the automobile industry was becoming so standardized that there was no choice in buying. He made the survey and believes that any such a theory is disproved by the figures ascertained.

Furthermore, states Mr. Hanlon, there is but little danger of a standardization. The automobile today is a necessity and not purely a pleasure vehicle as it was in former times. Modern situations make people demand automobiles to suit their purse and needs and with such a tremendous and important demand, there is no need to worry of a standardization which would wipe out all individuality.

New Castle Men Arrested At Butler For Mine Robbery

Caught Red Handed Loading Plunder On Truck, They Make Confessions

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 17.—Recent Butler county coal mine robberies are believed to have been solved by the arrest of Howard Mechling, 24, and Thomas Mechling, 28, of New Castle and Elmer Lucas, 28, of Euclid. The men were taken to state police headquarters to be finger-printed and were later lodged in the Butler jail.

For months, mines of the county which have been closed down suffered from depredations of mine thieves, who stole copper wire, parts of engines and other machinery. Several mines have been damaged to the extent of thousands of dollars.

Saturday, County Detective Wigton went out to the mine and entered it and made an investigation. He discovered that in the mine a large quantity of copper trolley and lead wire had been taken down and further search revealed piles of junk all carefully sorted out ready for removal and several piles of the copper wire that had been cut into short lengths.

Summoning state police, Mr. Wigton went to the mine late Friday night and they secreted themselves and waited. Hours passed and finally their vigilance was rewarded. A truck was heard driving up the road toward the mine and soon the men were busy at work loading it when they were covered by the officers and told to surrender.

The men, seized red-handed, were taken to the barracks and locked up. They were questioned and all made confessions.

In the confessions they stated that they had disposed of their loot thru the junk yard of Harry Wolfe of New Castle. Wolf was arrested also, and he stated that he knew the men by other names than those they gave to the police.

Thomas Mechling was known to Wolf as Charles Clark and the checks made out to him in payment for the junk were produced. They had all been cashed at a New Castle bank and measured only a fraction of what the value of the property damaged amounted to.

Wolf is charged with violation of the state law relating to junk dealers and also with receiving stolen goods.

Warns Dry Workers Away From Politics

Pennsylvania Federal Officers Told To Stay Away From Activity

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
Special Washington News Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 17.—"Keep out of politics," is the most recent edict issued to members of the federal prohibition force of Pennsylvania by officials at Washington.

Seymour Lowman, assistant secretary of the treasury in charge of prohibition enforcement, has warned the prohibition force of the Keystone state that the force operates under civil service rules which prohibit civil service employes from engaging in any political activities. The civil service commission has supplemented Secretary Lowman's warning to the Pennsylvania enforcement workers by advising them that their political work must be confined to casting their votes.

This ultimatum, "keep out of politics," has been issued to the prohibition workers in order to avoid controversies that might arise from complaints that the civil service employes were publicly throwing their influence for one candidate or the other.

Citizens Celebrate Constitution Day

Federal Document Is Now 141 Years Old; Pennsylvania Celebrates

All was quiet in a little room in Philadelphia 141 years ago. The faint scratching of a quill pen was heard. Men replaced other men at a table, setting their signatures to a foolscap document.

The document was the constitution of these United States and the men were the original signers. And it happened just 141 years ago today—on September 17, 1787.

All citizens of the commonwealth of Pennsylvania are asked to commemorate this day in memory of the same day 141 years ago, when the signers of the constitution penned their names to the instrument.

A number of minor automobile accidents were reported to the police over the week end.

Hugh E. Forbes, R. D. 4, reported that he was driving north on Croton avenue Saturday near Hutchinson street when a lady stepped out from in front of a parked car, right in front of his machine. The lady was knocked down by his machine which he stopped as soon as possible. He assisted her to her home, she having apparently escaped serious injury. He failed to get her name.

N. E. Drake, 116 1-2 South Walnut street, reported Saturday that he was going north on South Mercer street, when a car ahead of him stopped on account of the red light. This car backed up in order to get clear of the intersection and compelled him to do likewise. As he backed up his machine struck and damaged a car bearing Pennsylvania license 543-745.

Jack Thompsan, R. D. 4, reported Saturday that he was driving north on Croton avenue and hit a machine bearing Pennsylvania license 809-090 which was parker at the side of the street, doing some damage to it.

William Schmidt, 527 Lyndal street reported Sunday that he had his car on the driveway of a club on Taylor street when a car bearing Pennsylvania license 550-330 and listed in the name of Stephen C. Miles, 827 Addis street, backed into and damaged his machine.

KONJOLA ENDS LONG ILLNESS IN VERY SHORT TIME

Stomach and Kidney Troubles of More Than Two Years Duration Yield—All Else Had Failed.

MRS. MINNIE CAIN

Marvelous are the wonders worked by Konjola, the modern medicine for ailments of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. Daily seekers after health are meeting the Konjola Man in the Love & Megown drug store, where he is citing case upon case wherein Konjola has triumphed after all other medicines and treatments have failed to afford even temporary alleviation of suffering. Konjola works quickly and give permanent results; glorious returns to health, a new life and a new joy in living. Countless are the endorsements of this master remedy; happy statements from those liberated from the thralldom of suffering and made well again. Among those grateful for the blessings Konjola confers upon the afflicted is Mrs. Minnie Cain, 313 Sampson avenue, New Castle, who radiant in her regained health and vigor after long sufferings, made this statement to the Konjola Man:

"I welcome this opportunity to tell what this wonderful Konjola did for me. I was discouraged with failure after failure to find something to help my stomach and kidney troubles. For two and a half years I was in extreme misery, and my condition was rapidly becoming worse. I must have tried everything I heard about, but all in vain. My appetite was very poor, and what little I did eat would lie in my stomach and ferment, causing gas and bloating and intense pain. My afflicted kidneys caused a dull, constant, sickening pain across the back, and at night it was necessary that I rise many times. At times the pains were so severe that I could not rise to a sitting posture, and was forced to keep to my bed.

"I noticed in The News many endorsements of Konjola, but was not impressed simply because all the medicines I had tried had disappointed me. But so convincing were these reports of the wonderful achievements of this modern medicine that I decided to give it a trial. To my astonishment and happiness I began to feel better within two days, and now, after a brief treatment, I am well again, freed from all my sufferings. I can eat anything I like without paying for it in pain, and am rapidly regaining my strength since I am able to digest my food and to sleep undisturbed all night. I gladly endorse Konjola; it certainly has been a Godsend to me."

Konjola contains juices from 22 plants—more than other medicines. It is a new compound that works with the sufferer's food, restoring more healthful action to the important organs (stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels) and producing new energy and glorious health in a natural way, thru the entire inner-system.

"POLITICAL INFORMATION FOR WOMEN"

This is Constitution Day.

What does it mean to you?

Constitution Day should be proclaimed as a great national holiday all over this broad land of ours, the people repairing to their several places of worship to thank God for the vision given those patriots of old.

Let us study the constitution. It is no small thing to be a citizen of the world's greatest republic. It's a great responsibility to be a voter here.

We cannot all be constitutional lawyers, but every American citizen, man or woman, young or old, may have and should have an intelligent idea of our form of representative government, of the people, by the people, for the people.

Let us each have a copy of our titled deed to our rights as American citizens. Let us read, think about and discuss with our friends the constitution which is the charter of our national life. Study its principles, know it, then we shall obey it.

We should try to elect only such officials to public office who understand the meaning of the oath to uphold the constitution of the United States.

As it is incumbent upon all officials from the least even unto the greatest, to take the oath to support, defend and obey the constitution.

Your attention is called to the fact that tomorrow, Tuesday, September 18, is the second registration day.

Take your state or county tax receipt with you. If you are registering for the first time I might state that the tax for the housewife is only 35 cents. All taxes not paid before September 1 have pased into the hands of collectors with five per cent added to the face.

Women who can do so are requested to register early in the day, leaving the evening hours open to business and otherwise employed men and women.

BELLA A. TAYLOR,
Chairman Legislative Committee of Federated Women's Clubs.

Dean Will Case Is Listed For Trial At October Court

Controversy Over Alleged Will Of Late Mrs. J. J. Dean To Be Heard By Jury

Prothonotary R. M. Campbell has placed 65 cases on the common pleas trial list for sessions of court, beginning on October 8, October 15, and November 12. Among the cases is one that is likely to attract considerable interest. It is the case of Ida B. Dodson and others against Jane Ligo and others. This is a case growing out of the probating of an alleged will of the late Mrs. J. J. Dean. After the alleged will had been probated steps were taken by Ida B. Dodson and others to have it revoked on the grounds that it was not in the handwriting of Mrs. Dean. Considerable testimony was taken before Judge Chambers, but before the case was completed it was asked that a jury trial be held. Judge Chambers granted this motion and awarded the issue. The case appears second on the list. Owing to the death of Attorney R. K. Aiken who was named as executor of the will which has been probated, its likely that the case will be more complicated than ever. Mr. Aiken was one of the witnesses when the case was heard before Judge Chambers. It is probable that the case will be taken up during the week beginning October 8, unless a continuance is granted.

John C. Offutt Is Reported Improved

Frank B. Offutt and daughter, Miss Sally Lou, have returned from Los Angeles, Cal., where they were called on account of the serious illness of their father and grandfather, John C. Mr. Offutt has been sick for the past six weeks, but when his son and granddaughter left, after a stay of two weeks, to return to this city, his condition was much improved.

All that remains to be decided is the relatives numerical strength of Smith Republicans and Hoover Democrats.

RELIEF AGENCIES HASTEN SUPPLIES TO PORTO RICANS

away. Roads being cleared, but telegraph, telephone and radio will require some time, probably half population homeless. All food and clothing in island will soon be exhausted. If immediate shipment of food such as rice, beans, potatoes, flour, salt pork, codfish and beef, it would help much. Local supplies insufficient, much destroyed. Clothing also needed, especially for women and children. Inform Red Cross headquarters great help needed, and I will send them statement of needs Monday."

600,000 in Need.

After receipt of this message the bureau of insular affairs of the war department, which supervises the government of Poto Rico, estimated that 600,000 persons will need assistance. The shipment of supplies to leave New York tonight or tomorrow will provide rations for 100,000 persons for five days.

Chairman John Barton Payne of the Red Cross cabled Governor Towner authority to make immediate purchase of food supplies available on the island up to $20,000 and charge to the Red Cross headquarters to meet the emergency pending the arrival of the shipment from New York. Estimates of the cost of the New York cargo were $80,000 at Red Cross headquarters, thus making an initial food bill of $100,000 for the Porto Rican relief alone.

A report on conditions in storm-stricken Porto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Florida was submitted to President Coolidge today by C. B. Robbins, assistant secretary of war, Major Gen. Charles P. Summerall, chief of staff, and John Barton Payne chairman of the Red Cross.

The president has been assisting in coordinating the activities of the Red Cross and various governmental agencies in rushing relief to the stricken areas.

Following the White House conference, Robbins, Summerall and Payne went to Red Cross headquarters where relief work is being directed.

750 Tons of Food

Approximately 750 tons of food supplies will be available for the hurricane sufferers of Porto Rico within the next 24 hours under orders issued by President Coolidge following the conference.

Seeking immediate relief, the White House conferees directed that the army transport St. Mihiel, which left New York Friday for Panama, discharging its subsistence cargo of 550 tons at San Juan, which will arrive tomorrow. The freight transport Janowis, which was due in Panama east bound tomorrow, has been dispatched also to stand by Porto Rico pending further instructions. The Kanowis is carrying about 200 tons of canned subsidence supplies, and it may be found sible to increase the cargo at Panama.

Meanwhile the War Department made public a cable from Governor Towner, reporting the disaster as "the worst that ever occurred from a hurricane in the West Indies".

Towner reported that everything in the way of relief is needed and he urged that President Coolidge issue a proclamation asking for nation-wide aid through the Red Cross.

Towner's cable follows: "Reports of loss of property to this date confirm former reports. They are to the effect that one-half of the homes of the people are destroyed. That would mean 700,000 people homeless. Many schoolhouses and other public buildings also destroyed.

"The cane growing crops injured to extent of 25 per cent, the tobacco crop growing injured 50 per cent. The coffee crop, valued at $10,000,000, 75 per cent destroyed. The fruit crop totally destroyed, also 25 per cent of trees.

"These reports are probably in some respect exaggerated, but the disaster is the worst that ever occurred from a hurricane in the West Indies and in some respects the facts are worse than the report.

"The loss of life is greater than at first reported, but no reliable estimates can be made at present.

"The suffering from exposure, want of food and clothing and loss of household effects will be great.

"The local Red Cross is functioning in San Juan and vicinity, but its resources are small. We need immediate help for temporary needs. Everything is needed, money especially. Should like to have an immediate contribution as large as can be made, from American Red Cross cabled and then a campaign for funds in continental United States.

"If the President would approve, he could greatly aid by issuing a proclamation asking for aid generally, the contribution to be sent the American Red Cross at Washington. Please inform the Red Cross officials that we would be glad to have a rehabilitation unit to come at once to help on rehabilitation program."

President Coolidge, it was said, is willing to pursue any course recommended by the Red Cross. Chairman Payne indicated that the Red Cross is equipped to meet the emergency for the present.

CITY PLANNER ROTARY SPEAKER

Discusses Playground Work In Cities At Noon Hour Meeting

Leo J. Buettner of Johnstown, who has charge of the city planning work in that city, spoke before the members of the New Castle Rotary club today on the subject of "Parks and Recreation."

Mr. Buettner told of the work which faces a planning committee, and urged the club to sponsor a program for additional playgrounds. He told of the values that result from regular places of recreation where the children of the city can romp to their heart's content.

"In Johnstown, which has a population of about 70,000 persons, there are more than 20 playgrounds for the boys and girls," the planner stated. "I understand that in this city there are but seven."

In closing, he stressed the immediate need of these centers and asked the local Rotary body to back up firmly a strong playground program.

Father Believes Jaworski Man Who Kidnaped Daughter

Fredonia Girl And Male Companion Attacked By Man Given Ride In Machine

(International News Service)

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 17.—Francis Dunn today notified police that he believes Paul Jaworski, bandit held in Cleveland for shooting a policeman to death, is the man who kidnaped his daughter, Mary, 23, and Ernest Salzer, 30, of Fredonia, after they took him into their automobile on the Lake Shore road last July.

Miss Dunn, found wandering in a dazed condition along the road near Lake View, 10 miles from Buffalo, told of being kidnaped by a strange man who asked for a ride near Fredonia, 30 miles away. Salzer was found lying beside the road and bore evidence of having been beaten over the head with a revolver. The automobile was recovered in Lackawanna, adjacent to Buffalo, and an unsuccessful search for the kidnaper was made in the latter city.

Dunn did not know whether he would take his daughter and Salzer to Cleveland to view Jaworski.

Report Homes And Buildings Are Wrecked

At least two of the dead were white, the rest negroes, the reports said.

The county hospital was partially destroyed, but it was not known whether there was any loss of life.

Unconfirmed reports were also received by radio operators from Boynton, south of Tampa, said that a number of persons had been killed when a school building in which they sought shelter from the hurrican collapsed.

Two Fire Department Members Are Ill

Two members of the New Castle Fire department, who have been ill for some time, have not improved, according to the statement made this morning by Fire Chief Charles H. Lynn.

William Crowe, lieutenant of Number 3 department, who has been ill, suffered a relapse Saturday afternoon, and had to return to his bed. George Ray, captain at Number 6, who has been seriously ill for some time, is still in a serious condition, reports Chief Lynn.

The Story Of Our War With Spain

Holding San Juan Hill

AFTER CAPTURING SAN JUAN HILL (JULY 1, 1898), THE AMERICANS HOLDING A POSITION ON ITS CREST WERE IN GREAT DANGER. OUR SOLDIERS WERE WITHOUT RATIONS, EXHAUSTED BY THE HARD FIGHTING, AND EXPOSED TO A HARASSING FIRE FROM THE SPANISH SECOND LINE OF DEFENSE.

IN THE AFTERNOON, GEN. WHEELER, WHO HAD BEEN ILL EARLY IN THE DAY, ARRIVED ON THE SCENE. THE ENEMY HAD LEFT SOME ENTRENCHING TOOLS ON THE HILL, AND WHEELER SET THE MEN DIGGING TRENCHES TO PROTECT THEM FROM THE FIRE OF THE SPANIARDS.

JULY 2 IT RAINED UNCEASINGLY. THE AMERICANS WERE CHILLED TO THE BONE, AND THE FLOODED TRENCHES ADDED TO THEIR HARDSHIPS. THE MUD PREVENTED AN ADVANCE, AND THE DAY WAS SPENT EXCHANGING OCCASIONAL SHOTS WITH THE ENEMY.

THAT NIGHT SHAFTER HELD A CONFERENCE WITH HIS GENERALS, AND THE NEXT DAY SENT WORD TO THE SPANIARDS THAT IF THE CITY WERE NOT SURRENDERED, HE WOULD BOMBARD IT WITH HIS SIEGE GUNS. GEN. LINARES, THE SPANISH COMMANDER, HAD BEEN WOUNDED ON JULY 1, AND GEN. TORAL, WHO SUCCEEDED HIM, PARLEYED WITH SHAFTER TO GAIN TIME.

Football Season To Open Here Saturday

Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh Has But Few Days Left To Whip Team Into Shape

Outlook For Strong Eleven At Senior High School Is Very Bright

By "BUGS" WALTHER

With the major league baseball teams battling furiously at the present time to determine the pennant winners in their respective circuits, and the races very interesting, football will make its 1928 debut here on Saturday afternoon of this week.

Another few days and the gridiron teams will get the call of the "main pack." Football is fast becoming a popular sport, with all classes of people. No longer is it just the high school boy or girl who goes into antiquated realms of joy when the rangy backfield man outsprints his field and plants the pigskin behind the goal posts, no, one must say that the older folks are becoming "footballized." Attendance figures at games last year throughout the country showed big increases, and the matrons and older men helped swell the quota.

Bellevue In Opener

New Castle High school will be host Saturday afternoon at Ben Franklin High field to the Bellevue High team. The concrete stand and bleachers at Franklin field will be packed to the limit, as is customary at opening games. The lure of the elusive pigskin is in the air again. Many thousand words have been written about the relative merits of this year's team. The fans will flock to Franklin field on Saturday to see for themselves.

"How good is the New Castle High team this year, is it equal to the 1927 team?" this question has been answered by the writer many many times during the past month.

Team Is Strong

New Castle High has a fine team this season, it may not be up to the standard of the 1927 combination and again it may, one cannot tell about football until they are seen in action. With a big, heavy, veteran line, Coach Bridenbaugh is not the least bit perplexed as to the performance of his "boys" as he calls them. The forward wall this year is about the last word in scholastic prowess. Almost every man on the line has had at least one year's experience and that is what makes for perfection in any gridder.

The backfield posts at the start of the season with Paul Reider, Earl Turk, Captain "Tippy" Richards, and Walter Smith, missing looked anything but bright. Three weeks of maneuvering with a lot of husky boys and Coach Bridenbaugh is ready to present to New Castle fans a "Foursome" of ball carriers that will cause consternation to many teams appearing on the program. The solving of the backfield enigma this year has saved what looked like a disastrous season.

Fight For Posts

There are eight and perhaps nine backfield bets out for positions this year and Coach Bridenbaugh is figuring on two complete sets of ballotters. In fact there may not be what is known as one regular starting set of backfield men, with eight boys playing about equal it is a large task to select four regulars.

Usually the first game on any grid card is termed an "easy opponent," but such is not the case this season with New Castle High. Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner has picked out Bellevue High for the first showing, and consequently the choice fell upon a championship team. Bellevue High in the fall of 1927 ran through the Tri-Borough schools in the Pittsburgh district in rather over-bearing fashion and emerged with the title dangling from their waists. Bellevue will test the strength of New Castle High gridders.

Hard Work Ahead

The next few days for the fifty odd candidates of the Senior High are going to be filled with plenty of football labor. Tough practice sessions will be undertaken on the first four days with a slight letup on Friday when the matter of perfecting signals will be given attention.

On Saturday afternoon with several thousand fans in the audience, the curtain call will ring for the New Castle High School football team of 1928, and eleven husky warriors will trot out on the greensward of Franklin Field, to display their wares.

Firpo Fights Here Tonight

YOUNG FIRPO

Young Firpo, Louisville, is in shape for his ten round bout with Bert Hilliard, Toronto, at Jolly bowl tonight. Hilliard has a good record and fans hope to see one of the best fights of the season.

Savoia Basketball Teams To Practice

The Casa Savoia basketball teams will hold their first practice session of the year at the House of Savoia gymnasium on Wednesday night at 7:30. Coach Benny Marino will have charge of the practices.

It is asked that all players report for the initial rehearsal. Plans are under way to have a fast junior team and also a light junior team. The light junior team won the championship of the county last year. All members of the 1927-28 team that are in good standing or not in good standing but hope to get their dues paid before the season opens, are asked to report to Coach Marino before Wednesday night.

Joseph Diana will handle the Savoia managerial reins this year in place of Sebastian Isabella, former popular manager, who enters Duquesne university this year. The Savoia teams will miss the energetic Sebastian as it was due to his untiring efforts that the teams gained much prestige last year. Diana will arrange the schedules for the Savoia teams this season with school teams, fraternal teams and church teams.

Judge James A. Chambers will be the principal speaker of the evening. Attorney John Powers has consented to act as toastmaster of the occasion. President William G. Andrews of the Twilight League will be present and deliver a talk on the league activities.

Cardinals Add To League Lead

Giants Fall To Pirates As Cards Are Idle And Increase Lead

BENTON DROPS HEARTBREAKER

By LES CONKLIN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Keyed up by the red-hot pennant races, two of the greatest pitchers in baseball—Lefty Grove and Larry Benton—turned in classic performances yesterday Grove held Cleveland to four hits and won, 7 to 1, when the Athletics knocked Joe Shaute out of the box in the sixth. Benton limited the slugging Pirates to two singles in eight frames, but both of them came in the same inning and the Giants lost, 1 to 0, because they couldn't hit Fred Fussell in the pinches.

Benton's defeat was his own fault, because he forced in the winning run by walking Big Poison Waner with the bases full. The Giants are now two games behind St. Louis and their nine-game winning streak is no more. Both the Cards and the Cubs were idle yesterday.

Fifty-thousand fans saw the Giants play, and 30,000 saw the Yankees beat the Browns in St. Louis 7 to 5, thus holding on to their half-game lead. Buster Gehrig got his 24th homer and Koenig and Blue also hit for the circuit.

After Alphone Thomas had held the Red Sox to four hits, winning 7 to 1, Slim Harriss of the Boston staff blanked the White Sox 2 to 0.

Fifteen hits, including a homer by Goslin, enabled Washington to trim Detroit 11 to 7 Cincinnati won 4 to 3 over Brooklyn after the Dodgers had tied it up in the ninth.

Farrell-Hagen Series Tied Up As Johnny Wins

Y., Sept. 17.—The fifth and deciding thirty six hole match between Johnny Farrell, United States open champion and Walter Hagen, British open champion, in their unofficial "world series" will be played at Detroit or at the Oakmont club in Pittsburgh. Canadian To Test Louisville Battler

Takes Place Of Hybert, Who Pleads Off, Saying He Is Ill And Cannot Fight

HILLIARD HAS WON OVER FIFIELD, CHAMP

By ED. FRITZ

HERE are trials and tribulations in the life of everyone, and today Bill Jolly, enterprising fistic impressario of the Jolly Bowl was called upon to execute a neat bit of pugilistic matchmaking and land Bert Hilliard to fight Young Firpo tonight at the bowl, as Floyd Hybert, Ashtabula middleweight, was taken ill suddenly and could not go through with his engagement.

In selecting Hilliard, however, Bill staged a brilliant stroke, as Hilliard holds a victory over George Fifield, Canadian welterweight champion, and drew with Harry Fuller, who defeated George Perotta in a Buffalo ring.

There is a large assembly of fans here who crave to see Firpo tested thoroughly, and according to Jolly the boy from Toronto is the one to do the testing, and if all the good things said of Hilliard are true, then this elongated, partly baldheaded boy from Louisville is in for a rather warm evening's evenin'.

FIRPO HAS BEEN GOING VERY GOOD

Firpo has been prancing like a two-year-old colt in the Jolly Bowl ring, and before that in the Jolly fistic circus. At the Old Armory he chased the redheaded Jadabird out of the ring and affection of fans, then topped it off with a kayo over Joe Midway.

Of course, Midway is young and not seasoned, but the tough, rugged, game and gallant Joe O'Malley, who took a licking, did one thing—he showed with his wallops against Firpo that the latter could stand up under a couple of healthy ones to the chin.

Along came George Perotta, or Game Georges, as the writer is wont to characterize one of the best friends the writer of this article ever had. George was not in the acme of physical condition and though he lasted 10 rounds was outpointed.

He trained faithfully and determined to do or die, went into the ring a second time in grand shape, but was knocked out technically, as he was still on his feet, bloody, yes, but was all in. Firpo got the award and immediately fans wanted Firpo tested thoroughly.

HILLIARD HAS GOOD RECORD

And that is the way with fickle fandom. Once a winner and the man pack yells for a scalp and nowadays the talk is: "How good is Firpo?" Floyd Hybert was booked, was taken ill yesterday and Bill Jolly burned telephone and telegraph wires to get a good man.

He tried Micky Fedor, Dick Evans and a lot of other battlers, but all pleaded "this" or "that", but when Hilliard was asked to accept the fight he turned right up on the job and says that he will make things interesting tonight for Mr. Firpo.

Recently Hilliard has turned in some good fights and his record is submitted to fandom as follows: George Brown, won six rounds; Harry Fuller, draw, six rounds; George Collins, won 10 rounds; Georgie Fifield, won six rounds, and Tom Perkins was flattened in two.

Willie Lavin, draw six rounds; Jimmy Nichols, knockout two rounds; Frank Carter, knockout six rounds; Bobby Haystack, lost 10 rounds; Phil DeMarco, knockout four rounds; Red Bragan, draw 10 rounds, and Virgil Kankade, draw six rounds.

RIO, TAYLOR, PACELLI, THOMPSON TO FIGHT

Frankie Rio, another boy managed by Jimmie Dunn, will fight Bad News Taylor in the six-round semi-final. Rio has a clever style, a good left hook and likes to fight. Taylor is being brought here by James Buchanan, who pilots Willie Davies. Taylor once was a real topnotcher.

Romeo Pacelli, a boy from New Castle, will get a chance to earn his livelihood by battling Tommy Thompson of Cleveland. Larry Keogh manages Thompson and says he is a fairly good boxer with a good punch. Romeo has not fought for several weeks, but is in good condition.

Pacelli is well liked here and if he wins tonight should be given a higher place on the card in the near future. He is about the best looking young boy that the fans have seen turned out of New Castle recently and everyone hopes to see him win tonight. Pacelli hopes to win from Thompson, of whom little is known.

MINTEER, ITOVINO, ELMO AND BROWN ON CARD

Roy Minteer, the South Side Frenchman, tackles Al Itovino in a four-round bout. James Buchanan, manager of Willie Davies, says Al is out of the amateur ranks only two fights, but adds that his protege will stop Minteer. New Castle will wait to see how truthful Mr. Buchanan is, as Roy is extraordinarily tough.

Elmo the Mighty, who not only is a good actor, but a rugged swinger, fights his old rival, Maxie Brown, in the first four-round go. They were to have fought several weeks ago, but a fractured finger kept Maxie out of lots of Elmo's punches. Tonight he promises to know Elmo for a couple of wheelbarrow loads of coal, whatever that is.

The first bout will start at 8:15 p. m., with Mr. Jolly as the promoter, either Joe Keally or George Chip as the referee and the rival managers as seconds. The music will be swishing gloves, and with Hilliard and Firpo as the topliners there will probably be another capacity crowd at the bowl when the ring is illuminated.

Central Team Wins Decision

Presbyterians Defeat First M. E. Team In Pennant Series Saturday

The Central Presbyterians settled a mooted question at Croton field Saturday afternoon when they trampled the First Methodist team by a score of 8 to 5. By virture of their victory the Presbyterians won the right to meet the Croton team for the church league championship.

Johnny Melder had the pitching assignment for the Central and hurled a steady game, allowing the heavy slugging Methodists but eight hits and accounting for four strikeouts. Uber and Baker had the mound duty to divide for the Methodists and were found for 11 hits.

The Presbyterians had two big innings, the third and seventh, when they tallied seven of their runs. The Methodists found Melder easy to solve in the third inning and shoved over three runs, but after that Melder had the situation well in hand. Barber led the sluggers with a triple, while Brooks was very much in evidence with a pair of doubles. Nocera and Uhle also had extra-base hits.

The game was loosely played in spots with a total of nine errors being chalked up.

Tri-State Gridders Will Open Season Sept. 29

With the opening of most of the colleges and universities of Pennsylvania and the surrounding states this week, the collegiate football season is not more than a week off.

Saturday, September 22, four West Virginia teams will clash, while Saturday, September 29, the collegiate football season in western Pennsylvania will be officially declared open when Thiel meets Pitt, when Westminster meets Carnegie Tech, and when Slippery Rock plays Duquesne.

A big year is predicted by the colleges in this section of the state. Indications are that the coming fall season will be one of the biggest in football history as pre-season dope shows that the schools have big men left from last year's teams, and cordons of husky Freshmen in the offing.

Grove City College will not start her football season until October 6, when the Grovers will play St. Francis. The Crimson squad did not enter camp this summer until a week after most of the other colleges. After an absence of two campaigns, Westminster and Grove City will resume grid relations when they play on October 20. This game is one of the head liners in the tri-state district.

League Of Nations On Penn State Team

Almost Every European Nation Represented On Nittany Grid Squad

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Sept. 17.—When the roll of the Penn State football team is called each evening, Coach Hugo Bezdek, who himself was born at Prague, Czecho-Slovakia, states that his task reminds him of being secretary to the league of nations, for the Nittany mountain huskies represent the far flung corners of the world.

In the first place, there is George Delp, end, with a surname which came originally from the flat lands of Holland; Herbert Heins Eschbach, center, whose face, figure and name cannot dispute his Pennsylvania-German ancestry; Ricker, tackle, with the pudgy build and great strength of the burghers who carved a nation's home from a great sea marsh, and Frank Diedrich, a veritable Teuton, comprise the Dutch legation at Penn State.

Swelling the roll call of the nations of the Lion squad are Marty McAndrews, center, as Irish as Penn State's blue jersey will permit; Turino Panaccion, guard, a Mussolini of the line; Saracinsky, halfback, and Kosempa, guard, two Poles that Commander Byrd has yet to discover, and Allie Woldt, halfback, and Myer Kaplan, end, Hebrews that range a football field as completely as the storied Wandering Jew.

Maintaining the Nordic place in the Nittany sun are Earl Edwards, end; Jack Martin, tackle; Joe Miller, quarterback, and Cal Shawley, tackle.

You can't tell. When a community is dry, it may be either a moral state or a temporary drouth.

Bob, Son-Of-Battle

By Feg Murray

Metropolitan Newspaper Service

This is the story of the lethargic, easy-going, 30-year-old Californian whose ice-cold nerve in a pinch kept the Yankees in the lead in the American league, just as five years before he had come through in the world's series, after Babe Ruth had struck out, to drive in the tying and winning runs.

The time was about 6:30 p. m. on Sunday, September 9th, the place, the Yankee Stadium in New York City; the hero, Robert William Meusel, left-fielder of Miller Huggin's New York Yankees. Before 35,000 people, the biggest crowd in the history of baseball, "Long Bob" delivered the blow that sank poor Connie Mack when in the hectic eighth inning of the second game of a double-header, he came to bat with the score tied and the bases full and rapped out a home run that went sizzling over Al Simmon's head into the left field bleachers. Bob provided the thunder, and the crowd came through with the showers—dozens and dozens of straw hats that sailed into the diamond like so many huge, yellow snow flakes.

What a day it was, and what a crowd, and what a pair of ball games! The biggest and best sporting event of the year at a two-dollar top! Compare that with some of those twenty-dollar prize fights! Phooey! The other high spots of the day were the pitching of Pipgras in the opening game; the sudden collapse of old Jack Quinn, who had previously struck out Babe Ruth twice; Al Simmons's fine batting; and Gene Robertson's remarkable running and sliding catch of Cochrane's high bunt in the first game.

Connie Mack may yet lead his Elephants into the promised land, but the Yankees stole the show at baseball's biggest performance, and the star actor of the day was Long Bob Meusel!

Westminster Football Squad Will Be Banquet Guests At New Dormitory Tonight

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 17—Robert Audley Browne hall, the new dormitory for men at Westminster, is to be formally opened this evening at 5:30 when the football squad, Coaches "Dyke" Beede and John Lawther and the managerial staff are guests at a testimonial dinner in the cafeteria.

C. H. Brown manager of the cafeteria thought that such an official beginning of service in the new building would be in keeping with the purpose of the structure since it is for the men students of the college.

Dr. W. Charles Wallace president of the college, will be in charge of tonight's affair and will act in the capacity of toastmaster. A number of newspaper men and other invited guests will also be present.

The football team training table will be discontinued after tomorrow. Registration on Wednesday and Thursday and the start of classes on Friday will make only one practice session each day possible.

Pirates Blank Gotham Giants

Pass To Paul Waner Gives Pirates Shutout Victory, 1 To 0

BENTON ALLOWS ONLY TWO HITS

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Larry Benton struck a snag Sunday and failed to chalk up his 25th victory of the season as the Pirates gave the Giants a shutout and rendered good support to Fred Fussell. The score was 1 to 0.

Ray Kremer's arm held a kink and though it was his turn to hurl, Fussell was sent in to pitch with Hemsley behind the bat. Benton opposed Fred and allowed only two hits up to the time Scott took his place. Scott was touched up once. Fussell gave seven hits.

It was in the third that Pittsburgh got its only run. Wright singled and Hemsley flied out. Fussell singled to short right and Fussell went to second as Adams walked. Lloyd Waner forced Wright at the plate as the ball went along third base.

Lindstrom threw to Hogan and Wright was out at the plate. Paul Waner drew a pass and Fussell crossed the line with the winning run of the game. The box score:

Jinxed by Yanks

By QUIN HALL.

DESPITE the fact that the New York Yankees have been able to best him in most of the start he has made against them, Lefty Grove undoubtedly will turn in one of the best seasons of his career, and if the American League gallop still is in doubt a lot of the burden in the final drive will be put on the shoulders of Connie Mack's star portsider.

Lefty has been able to chalk up a goodly list of wins during the year which is rapidly coming to a close, and it would be much more massive if he could have been successful in winning more of his starts from the Hugmen. It seems that the New York crowd have had a jinx working overtime on Bob this season, and in his defeat column the name of the Yanks stands out like a flapper who still clings to the good old-fashioned cotton stockings.

A peculiar twist in the schedules put the bulk of the games between these two teams early in the season when the Yanks easily were supreme over all the league and the A's had yet to hit their stride. From July 1 to September 9 the two leading clubs in the league did not meet and the clash which occurred at Yankee Stadium during the three-day period starting September 9 marked the finish of the battling between these two clubs for the season.

Grove has been a much improved pitcher during the latter months of the season. He's not the same Lefty encountered by the Yanks during April, May and June—the period when most of the heavy cannonading between the two clubs was scheduled.

Regardless of his late start Grove still is one of the best twirlers in the game and Connie Mack must depend on him a lot during the dash in the home stretch if things work out so that there is a really exciting finish. Jack Quinn is another Athletic flinger who has proved especially good this year but Jack with his advanced years is tiring and while he may upset the dope it doesn't seem possible that he can be depended upon in the pinches. Walberg's illness has interfered in no small way with his effectiveness, Rommel has been rather an in-and-outer and Ehmke seemingly can't stand the strain of the full route.

Grove has been dealing 'em up in a left-handed way for Mack over a number of years and originally broke into the game as a southpaw first sacker, who, as a kid, heaved the ball around the infield with so much speed that the players winced whenever he fired a cannot shot at them. That fact marked him as twirling timber. That was back in Groves's youthful days when he was playing town lot ball at Lonaconing, Md. His first shot at a professional job came when he was signed by the Martinsburg, W. Va., Club, in the Blue Ridge League. Every time he pitched against the Hagerstown, Md., team he was opposed by the same pitcher. Almost every time young Grove won and the Hagerstown flinger, growing tired of these customary defeats, took matters in his own hands and wrote to Jack Dunn, the famous manager of the Baltimore Club in the International Laegue, advising him to buy his left-handed Nemesis.

Dunn took the tip and during the balance of the season in Baltimore Lefty won twelve games and lost two. That, in itself, settled Grove's future and opened the gates to the Big Top for the southpaw first sacker who had made good on the hill.

And he still is making good on the mound, despite the setbacks he has received at the hands of the Yankees this year. After all, when you come to think of it, who hasn't received setbacks at the hands of the Hugmen?

Attention Mr. H. M. Davis

Dear Mr. Davis:

I promised to write you about the performance of the Willys-Knights that I purchased during our four years' use of them in the mountains and the veldts of Central and East Africa.

To sum it up briefly, the Willys-Knights are my first and only choice where the maximum of rugged strength and power is the primary requisite.

The fact that the bodies are built so rugged and the Knight engine is so simple in design, with so few parts, has made the small repairs easy even for my black boys.

Our roads were mostly camel trails through unexplored country, and our Knights were given the hardest use a car could get, but they stood up wonderfully. Now, after four years, they are as good as ever, and live up to your slogan that "they improve with use."

Mrs. Johnson and I think the Willys-Knight is the best, simplest and sturdiest motor on earth.

With best wishes from us both,

Sincerely yours,
(Signed) MARTIN JOHNSON.

Golfers To Play For President's Trophy

Interesting Competition Will Be Followed By Stag Dinner At Club

For the purpose of stimulating the interest of the golfers of the New Castle Field club and also to stage one more big competition at the course of the club during the present season President Thomas W. Dickey has offered a handsome silver loving cup as the prize for the winner of a sweepstake event to be played Wednesday afternoon.

The trophy is of such a character that great enthusiasm is being manifested in the coming competition and it is anticipated that there will be a record number of golfers of the club in the play for it on Wednesday.

The players will be allowed their full handicaps and as a result the winner, in spite of the known ability of a number of paticipants is very much in doubt at this time.

Following the competition there will be a stag dinner at the club for the participants and it is anticipated that it will prove the outstanding event of the year.

Croton Gridders To Stage Practice

The Croton A. C. football team will hold an important practice session at the Croton field on Tuesday night at 6 o'clock.

Coach Colaluca requests that all players report promptly. The Croton team will start earlier this year, with the idea in mind to support a first class grid team. A banner year is anticipated in the Croton district. Teams desiring to arrange games with the Croton team are asked to call Colaluca at 4183-M and ask for Tony.

Croton Defeats Presbyterians In First Game

The Croton M. E. team defeated the Central Presbyterians, 8 to 1, in the first game of the New Castle Church League championship series Saturday afternoon at the Croton field.

Turk was on the mound for Croton, with Shetstrom behind the bat. Turk pitched a fine game for the Crotonites. Shoaff had the pitching assignment for the Centrals and was touched freely. Battley was back of the plate for the Presbyterians, but was injured and gave way to Melder.

The second game of the series will be played tonight at the Scotland Lane field at 5:30 o'clock, weather permitting. The third game, if necessary, will be played at the Croton field Thursday night of this week.

GRID CAPTAINS

Arthur E. French, broad jumper, sprinter and halfback, is captain of the Harvard football team this fall. He has played in the Harvard backfield for the last two years, and has shown himself to be a runner of the shifty type. He is at his best in an open field, where his twisting and dodging count to the best advantage.

When Coach Arnold Horween was hard pressed for a quarterback last fall, French was tried at the position. But it was soon found that his value was much greater at half.

French first starred at football around Boston. He played in the backfield for Worcester academy.

In his first year at Harvard he was elected captain of the frosh eleven. He is 21, stands six feet in height, and weighs about 180 pounds.

Strange how radio engineers can time the introduction of improved models to fit your last installment on the old one.

Sanity is the even balance that enables you to believe or doubt without getting mad because the other fellow believes or doubts.

Pirates Get Two

Carl Frey, above, and Jim Stroner, below, outfielder and third baseman, respectively, with the Wichita Western league club, will join the Pittsburgh Pirates in training camp next spring. The boys were turned over to the Bucs for two players and cash. Frey was sent to Wichita by the Pirates for seasoning this year. Stroner is a hitting sensation. Last year he hit .400 with Rock Island and this season .360. He has hit 37 homers in a season and is 22 years old.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—New advances in stocks of the steel, copper, oil and motor companies was Wall Street's response to the favorable reports from these industries which filtered into the financial district today. The copper stocks moved up brilliantly on attainment of the 15-cent price for copper metal. The oil stocks have also had plenty of "good news" to respond to.

A block of 10,000 shares of Anaconda copper sold at the year's highest price, after which the stock moved through 81 in active trading. Cerro De Pasco added 3 points to last week's 14½-point advance, Greene Cananea, Kennecott and Inspiration were in good demand. Vanadium Steel, Central Alloy, Bethlehem, Youngstown, Crucible and other of the so-called independent steels rose a point or two in active trading, and United States Steel was well bought fractionally above Saturdays' close.

With call money renewals at 7 per cent, and funds flowing more freely the promise of an easier call loan situation, was at hand at least temporarily. Business prospects appeared bright, particularly in the steel, motor car, copper, oil and building construction industries, and the motor stocks were again ready to respond to the reports of the heavy influx of new orders for popular cars. Studebaker's new advance to 84 was the feature of the motors.

Stock sales in the first hour were approximately 1,000,000 shares, with the ticker about 15 minutes behind the market.

Rev. G. H. Bucher Hurt In Accident

New Wilmington Pastor Is Injured In Crash Near Carlisle, Pa.

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Sept. 17.—Because of the seriousness of injuries received in an automobile accident near Carlisle, Pa., last Tuesday evening, the Rev. George H. Bucher was not able to appear in the local Presbyterian church yesterday morning to preach his final sermon as pastor of that church.

Rev. Bucher and his son Henry were both severely injurled in the face when their car struck an obstruction near the end of a road detour. However, it is expected that Rev. Bucher will preach his final sermon in the local church next Sunday. After that he will go to Princeton, N. J., where another son, Robert, will be in the first year class of the Princeton seminary.

The Louise Scott Missionary society of the local United Presbyterian church are to hold a dinner meeting at the home of Mrs. Greer on Neshannock avenue this evening.

The Rev. Ralph J. Neale, Mr. R. S. Mercer, and Mr. W. W. Brownlee are the local delegates to the United Presbyterian meeting of the First Synod of the West at Warren, Ohio the first three days of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Houston will start from here Wednesday to motor to Philadelphia where Mr. Houston will take up his fourth year work at the Jefferson Medical college. The local couple will make their home on Wayne avenue in Germantown.

John H. Boyd will leave here tomorrow for Morgantown, W. Va., where he will enter the West Virginia University medical school for his second year.

Councilmen Act On New Measures

Sidewalks Are To Be Required On Number Of Streets; Other Projects Involved

Members of city council convened today in city hall and after adopting the recommendation of Councilman Reeves to buy 40 tons of tarmac for repairing paved streets here acted on several ordinances which have reposed in committee.

An ordinance which provides for the paving of Wilder avenue between Ashland and Liberty, was reported out favorably.

A bill which calls for paving of North Mercer street between Lincoln avenue and Grant street drew similar favor.

According to the foregoing ordinance, when adopted, property-owners will have to pay their proportionate share of cost.

Sidewalks will be laid in East Elizabeth street between Delaware and Audley avenues when another bill is adopted.

During the session Councilman Reeves asked that a measure be drafted calling for sidewalks in Garfield avenue at various sections.

Second Match Of Tennis Tourney

Mrs. Eileen Stone Defeats Miss Newbury In Match Saturday Afternoon

Saturday afternoon at one o'clock saw the beginning of a very interesting tennis match in the Y. W. C. A. tennis tourney. Mrs. Eileen Stone, Y. W. C. A. tennis champion for three years, and Katherine Newbury were the contestants. Stoney's title appeared to be shaking on its pedestal when Kay won the first five games of the match. Kay's tennis has advanced far beyond her former tennis and she had an excellent placing of return balls. However with the 6th game Stoney came into her own with some hard and fast returns which gave her the first set while so many of Kay's backhand returns went into the net. In the second set Kay's endurance appeared to give out, while Stoney warmed up to the sport.

Score: 1st set, 8-6, Stone; 2nd set, 6-1, Stone.

The match between Ruth Jamison and Leaona Sankey, which was not completed on account of darkness, will be played tomorrow night at 6 o'clock.

This afternoon at 5 o'clock, Floy Owens and Mrs. Edw. L. Walls. Tomorrow at 5 o'clock, Jennie Johnson and Mildred Weisbaker. Matches played every afternoon on the Gillfillan court on Clenmore boulevard. Audience welcome.

Recovery For Paul Jaworski Very Doubtful

Death May Cheat Justice In Case Of Paul Jaworski, Famous Killer

SUFFERS RELAPSE OVER WEEK-END

Search For John Vasbinder Continues; Believe Jaworski Apartment Located

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17.—The condition of Paul Jaworski, gunman, jail-breaker and killer, today made his murder trial, scheduled for September 22, problematical.

Jaworski, who was captured last Thursday after a gun battle in which he killed a policeman, and wounded two other men, before he was himself wounded and captured, suffered a relapse over the week-end. Last night his condition required the administration of narcotics and today his recovery was considered doubtful.

Search for John Vasbinder, who, with Jaworski, shot his way out of the Allegheny county jail in Pittsburgh 13 months ago, while both were under sentence for first degree murder, is still under way.

A young woman who says she is the wife of one of Jaworski's pals was being questioned by police today. She was taken into custody yesterday and told police that her husband knew Jaworski in Detroit. Jaworski and his brother, Sam, lived for a time with them in Detroit, she said. Her husband left for Detroit, she stated, Thursday night, on learning of the gun battle, to notify Jaworski's relatives.

Detectives also located an apartment in which they believe Jaworski his wife, and another man lived while they were in Cleveland. The other man and Jaworski's wife escaped the city in a green automobile after the shooting they say.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

The lad who invented jury duty must have had a lot to do. Or at least quite a bit. Now serving on a local jury isn't so bad, ask the man who has been on one, but this district court thing certainly ties up matters considerably.

There are two district courts, one in Pittsburgh and one in Erie and when this is read I'll know more about whether district judges have a soul or not. So far I have four airproof alibis and centainly one of them ought to be of some service. And if they're not its going to be just too bad.

Staying in Erie for a week or two is one way of killing time, but what a way?

Since the detour on the Ellwood road, the Butler road is getting plenty of traffic. The usual heavy traffic has been doubled and crossing the road out here is just like crossing a busy railroad track.

Just off the corner of Mill and Washington street there are two rings set in the curbstone. How long they have been there nobody seems to know, but 30 years ago they were popular according to Newt Clark.

The rings were used for tying up horses and those were the days when left hand turns were popular and permissible. Today the rings are set in the restricted area.

It would be interesting to see what would happen if some lad drove up in a buckboard some day and tied his horse right at this busy corner.

The rings are there and were put there for use. But how long would a buckboard stand there.

This is a short colyum and a short day. For the next several days the roaming will be somewhere in the region of Lake Erie.

Pinned Under Car Which Rolled 100 Feet Down Bank

VANDERGRIFT, Pa., Sept. 17.—Two men miraculously escaped death when the automobile in which they were riding rolled 100 feet down a steep hill near here and smashed against a tree. The accident occurred on a country road on a hill overlooking Vendergrift in Armstrong county across the Kiski river. W. A. Somers and Russell Beers, both of Allison Lane, near here who were riding in the auto were pinned under the wreckage as the car crashed against the tree after its mad tumble down the hill. They escaped with shock, body bruises and lacerations.

The driver failed to make a sharp curve at the edge of the hill. His wheels slipped over and the car somersaulted down the hill. Neighbords who heard the crashing as the auto rolled, rushed to their aid and lifted the men from under the car.

WRIT OF REPLEVIN

J. P. Lapore has issued a writ in replevin in Lawrence county court against Earl Clark to secure possession of an automobile valued at $100.

The Way OF THE World

RELIEF IN PRISON.

Stanley Bush, Detroit bank clerk, stole $18,000 in 1919. For nine years he wandered from place to place, pursued by conscience and by fear. These twin terrors made him more miserable than police officers. And finally conscience and fear got him. He came back to Detroit, confessed his crime and entered jail with a sigh of relief. Sometimes you can beat everybody but yourself.

PRACTICAL WOMEN.

Women, are for the most part practical creatures. Note that Commander Byrd could get a hundred times more men than he needed to go to the South Pole with him. Men are stimulated by the thought of hardship and adventure. They come in droves to ask for the chance to go with an exploring party. Not so with women. Few ask to go. They don't even write, asking for a place in the expedition.

"Women think it is a foolish stunt," said Byrd before he left. Women can't understand why they should leave warm radiators, bath tubs and comfortable homes.

Women have always been more practical than men—less idealistic.

BABIES AND BREAD.

A college president says the world problem a hundred years hence may concern itself with a race between babies and bread. Increase in babies and increase in foodstuffs. Will the bread play out and the babies starve? Will there be too many people to feel? The college presndent need not worry. Science has already proved by study of the animal world that there will be no reproduction beyond the point where there is food enough to sustain life.

Certain laws work, whether man is interested in having them work or not. There are certain laws that are absolute and dependable. When the world gets so full there isn't food enough the birth rate will come down. That's automatic. It just does.

AN INVESTIGATION.

Too bad we on earth can not have the benefit of an unprejudiced examination on the part of a competent committee from another planet. We would like to be told whether much that passes for high civilization is civilization at all. We would like to know whether we really can expect to find as much happiness, living the crowded, complex, complicated lives we live as we could expect if we lived simplier lives—nearer the soil, more like the barbarian used to live and in some parts of the world still does.

Perhaps we are on the wrong track with our houses and lots and fast motors ani telephones and railway trains. Only a fair examination over a long period by a visiting delegation from another planet could really determine.

The melarcholy days are here, the saddest of the year. The janitor thinks you're warm enough, and he's a darn poor seer.

If he doesn't like to argue, that just means he doesn't like to have anybody contradict him.

Uses Police Power; Gets Fine Anyhow

Constitutionally, each man in these United States is guaranteed a police power: he can look over his neighbors and see that they are doing right: but not often is it used. And when it is used, dire are the results.

It happened Saturday evening, when William Bauder thought that John McCann had no right to cut through the traffic light at North and East streets. He yelled at McCann, asking him where he thought he was going, and all that. McCann answered. Soon they began to tangle words, and at the corner of North street and Rebecca Way, they soon began to tangle fists.

The law was summoned. Bauder had a severe cut over the eye. And this morning, for fighting only, each man was fined $10 and assessed one half of a $15 doctor bill.

Fashion note says a woman should have a hat to match every costume. Still, she would never have anything fit to wear.
